Pope John Names 7 Prelates To be Elevated to Cardinals

Negro, Japanese and Filipino Included First Time in History

Vatican City —Pope John XXIII today designated seven prelates to be cardinals. They included the first Negro the first Japanese and the first Filipino ever elevated to the college of cardinals.

Their elevation will bring the membership of the church's highest body to a total of 85, the largest in history.

The others chosen by the pope were two Italians, a Frenchman and a Dutch prelate.

Marines Test Artillery as 'Six-Shooter'

Washington —P—The marines are trying out a new weapon which fires artillery shells the same way an old time six-shooter worked when a gunman fanned the hammer.

The XM-70 can slam out its load of six 115 millimeter shells in 2½ seconds, to a range of as much as 10 miles.

The weapon was developed for the marine corps by the army, which nicknamed it "Mortz," a combination of the short range mortar and the longer range howitzer.

The marines, who planned to exhibit one of the weapons at the annual seapower symposium in session here, say the XM-70 is "the most significant improvement in conventional U.S. artillery since 1940. The gun is still in the process of perfection, with three prototypes under test from which more than 1,500 rounds have been fired.

The long-barreled gun is fed from a rotating cluster of chambers, similar to those on a revolver. The ammunition is a combination of an artillery shell and rocket — the rocket boosting the shell's speed and range after igniting following emergence from the gun tube.

The gun weighs 3,000 pounds and can be transported by helicopter or towed on its own mount by a lightweight truck.

The marines hope to have the first battery of XM-70 guns ready by February, 1962.

Khrushchev Gets Tougher Before Summit Parley

Washington —P—Premier Khrushchev's increasingly tough talk about Berlin appeared today to put him on the brink of violating his Camp David promise that new talks should go forward without a Soviet deadline.

Diplomatic authorities who have followed Khrushchev's free-wheeling comment during his Far Eastern trip said the Soviet leader clearly is trying to build up an atmosphere of threats in advance of the summit parley in Paris May 15.

During his travels, Khrushchev's favorite theme has been to repeat that he will sign a separate peace treaty with communist East Germany unless the allies agree with Russia on an all-German treaty.

His November, 1958, call for such a treaty and his demand that the allies pull their troops out of West Berlin set off a new crisis. He appeared at the time to have set a 6-month deadline, but later disclaimed any such intention and fixed no specific time for action.

Guest Aboard Yacht

Doerfer May be Asked About Social Contacts

Washington —P—The chairman of the federal communications commission may be questioned today on Capitol Hill about his social contacts with George B. Storer, owner of several TV and radio stations.

A detailed report last night said FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer was Storer's guest for several days last month aboard Storer's yacht in Florida. Storer is a Detroit and Miami broadcasting executive.

Doerfer said he was on the yacht twice for short periods last month. He denied emphatically to a reporter that he was a guest of Storer for any length of time aboard the yacht or elsewhere.

He said he vacationed at Fort Lauderdale during the second and third weeks of February, staying at the home of Wisconsin friends "who are in the broadcasting industry."

Probe State Tax Returns of City Official at Sheboygan

Madison —P—State Tax Commissioner John Gronouski said today auditors were checking into tax returns of a man identified by Gronouski as George Herr, Sheboygan city assessor.

Gronouski said he could not make public at this time the reason for the audit or the years for which an audit was being made by the district tax office at Appleton.

"We will investigate fully all the particulars," he said. When questioned by newsmen, Herr said: "Any conflict I may be having with tax authorities is a personal matter which will be resolved with them and them alone. It has no relation to my duty and obligations as a holder of public office."

Democratic Leader Seeks Compromise Over Fund for Civil Rights Bill

Sen. Johnson Moves in Effort to End Filibuster

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington —P—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) pressed for a compromise bill today while the southern filibuster against civil rights legislation gathered momentum.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) set a new speechmaking record for the current day-and-night debate even as the Democratic leader began talking up a new bill in conferences with Democratic proponents of civil rights amendments. Republican also were surveying chances of a compromise.

Humphrey Speaks Long, son of the late filibustering Huey P. Long, spoke for 9 hours and 21 minutes before yielding the floor early today. With a 75-minute break for other senate speeches, he held the floor from 1:32 p.m. yesterday until 12:38 a.m. today. His stint included a solid stretch of 8 hours and 23 minutes.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a civil rights supporter and presidential hopeful, took the floor for nearly an hour then and predicted congress will pass what he called a "reasonable and effective" bill. But he included in his proposals some of the points most strongly opposed by the southerners.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), another civil rights backer, also spoke briefly before a quorum call signaled the return of the southern speakers.

Another quorum call came at 4:50 a.m., bringing sleepy-eyed civil rights supporters to

Battle Seen Over Fund for Investigation

Labor Department Wants More Money To Conduct Inquiry

Washington —P—A scrap brewed in congress today over the amount of money needed by the labor department to hunt down labor department crooks. The controversy was sparked with new disclosures over the recent slaying of a Chicago union reform leader, Herman Posner.

The National Small Business Men's association said meanwhile it is asking congress to hold down labor department anti-corruption funds until the department revises labor relations expenditure reports required of employers.

John J. Gilhooly, assistant secretary of labor, told the senate appropriations committee the Posner slaying case illustrates why the department needs more operating funds.

Carried Evidence Gilhooly said the 73-year-old movie projectionist was carrying a valise of "incriminating evidence," due to be turned over to department investigators, on the night of Feb. 9 when Posner was stabbed to death behind his home.

The department is investigating complaints that Movie Projectionist Local 110 is "controlled by crooks and racketeers, remnants of the Capone, Boffi mobs."

The house cut a supplemental fund request of $1½ million to $750,000. Gilhooly asked the senate committee to restore the full amount. The department previously had received $2½ million and is asking for $5½ million for the year starting July 1.

City Considering Annexing Districts

Major Sewer Line Needed for Serving Badger, Triangle Areas

Appleton is considering annexation of two school districts west of the city for all purposes and construction of a major sewer line to serve them.

The city also is considering other annexations north and west of the city to take in two more school districts and cut the size of the town of Grand Chute by more than half.

Residents of the areas would pay a pro-rata share of the sewer line cost.

Aldermen in an informal meeting Wednesday asked for a cost estimate on constructing an interceptor sewer line from the city's southside sewage plant, along the Fox river southwest to a point near Mud creek, across the river and north into Badger and Triangle school districts. Possible future extension into Twin Willow and Woodlawn districts will be considered.

First Move Tuesday the first move in a series of interrelated events which may lead to an Appleton drive for annexation, will be a public hearing by the county school committee on attaching the Badger school district, west of the city, to Appleton for school purposes.

Under state law, all elementary school districts in the state must be attached to integrated or high school districts by July 1, 1962. Since Appleton's school system is an integrated one, any school district attached becomes a part of the system from grades 1 through 12, and is operated as a part of the Appleton system.

Appleton will ask the county school committee to hold off a decision on the Badger district until the committee considers attachment of the Triangle district, immediately north of Badger.

Estimate In Month The city will have an estimate on the sewer line cost in a month, although Public Works Director Duszynski warned aldermen his estimate could be 20 to 30 percent off — it's more a guess, he commented.

Superior Judge Clement D. Nye set the date yesterday for the condemned sex terrorist over the vigorous objections of Chessman's attorneys.

1 to 5-Year Term for 22-Year-Old Attacker

Joseph Smith Admits Attempted Rape; Nephew Receives 6-Month Term in Jail

Joseph Smith, 22, of 116 Garfield street, Kaukauna, was sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the state reformatory at Green Bay this morning for the attempted rape of a 19-year-old Green Bay girl.

His 19-year-old nephew, Gerald Smith, of 614 W. College avenue, Appleton, was sentenced to six months in the county jail for battery.

They pleaded guilty this morning before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

Joseph Smith also was charged with battery and sentenced to a 6-month term in the county jail, concurrent with the reformatory sentence.

Brown County Sheriff Artley Skenandore and Sheriff's Lt. Jack Frenzel were the only witnesses.

Joseph and Gerald Smith admitted meeting the girl in a Green Bay beer bar Sunday evening. Together they visited another bar and, early Monday morning, the girl agreed to accompany Joseph to Appleton, where they were to leave Gerald.

No Rape Evidence The attack took place on the Trout Creek school road near Oneida and just inside the Outagamie county line. Sheriff Skenandore said the girl had asked to be let out of the car when she saw they were not going directly to Appleton. It was then, the sheriff said, that the attack began.

The girl was severely beaten about the head. Photographs of the girl's legs showing bruises were introduced in evidence. Other photographs showed bruises and scratches on Joseph Smith. Frenzel and Sheriff Skenandore testified there was no positive evidence of rape. An examination by two doctors was inconclusive, the court was told.

The girl was pushed from the car into sub-freezing weather and was found about 2:30 a.m. Monday by the superintendent of the reformatory honor farm at Oneida. She is recovering at a Green Bay hospital.

Great Welcome Cheers President Despite Small Outbreaks by Students

Buenos Aires —P—President Eisenhower flew north toward home today after a triumphant 4-nation South American tour marked by huge, enthusiastic crowds and a smattering of tiny anti-U.S. demonstrations.

The president flew to Buenos Aires in his trusty Columbine III after a 21-hour stay in Montevideo, capital of neighboring Uruguay. He held a brief last meeting at the Buenos Aires airport with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi, then took off in his big Boeing 707 jet for an all-day flight to Puerto Rico and three days of rest before going on to Washington.

U. S. Air Force officials said the flight plan at the time of departure called for a refueling stop in Paramaribo, Surinam, after a flight of near six hours. That schedule would put the president in Puerto Rico late this afternoon.

Eisenhower was smiling and in obvious good humor as he said goodbye to President Frondizi. They had a final 15-minute talk aboard the sleek jet just before it took off.

Just before leaving Uruguay, Eisenhower and President Benito Nardone issued a joint "declaration of Montevideo" repudiating all types of anti-democratic actions. They pledged their adherence to the principle of non-interference in the affairs of other American countries and agreed to use their efforts to increase economic, social and cultural cooperation.

Fears Cut in Sugar Quota

Havana Paper Says President Could Reduce Purchases

Havana —P—Revolution today published a text of what it described as a bill to amend the U.S. sugar act by giving the president the right to reduce the sugar quota to harm Cuba's economy.

The semi-official newspaper repeated yesterday's charge that the purported bill would cut Cuba's sugar quota in the U.S. market by 192,000 tons. At the prevailing rates this would mean a loss of some $21 million in annual sugar sales in the United States.

Wants Subsidy The Revolution story fitted in with increasing apprehension displayed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government that U.S. sugar laws may be revised. Cuba has refused to negotiate differences with the United States if any move is made to alter the setup that in effect provides a sugar subsidy of about $150 million a year to Cuba.

Last night, Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Castro's chief economic adviser and head of the national bank, made it clear that Cuba does not want to give up the subsidy even though it "enslaves" the Cuban people by making it attractive for them to keep their one-crop economy based on sugar.

Vice President To Get His Hat Back From Rapids

Wisconsin Rapids —P—Although there's some doubt that Vice President Richard M. Nixon really needs that favorite hat for any traditional throwing gestures, he's finally going to get it back.

Last November on a trip to Wisconsin, Nixon left the handsome gray fedora in the squad car after Police Sgt. Franklin Smith drove him from one appearance to another. Smith regarded the hat as a lawful souvenir. He's 9-year-old daughter, Deanne, posed for photographers, the hat perched proudly on her blond curls. She was very fond of the hat.

So, it appears, was the vice president. He sent Deanne an autographed picture. Then he sent Sgt. Smith a fine silk necktie, and a note about how pretty Deanne looked. In the hat, you understand.

Sgt. Smith and Deanne surrendered. Deanne has her picture. Smith has the hat. The hat is en route back to the vice president.

No More Snow, but Drifting in Sight

Wisconsin — Strong winds to blow and drift new snow tonight. Friday partly cloudy and cold, with snow flurries extreme north. Outlook for Saturday: Fair to partly cloudy and continued cold.

Appleton — Temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a.m. today: High 23, low 15, temperature at 10 a.m. today 21. Barometer reading 30.18 inches with wind northeast at 17 miles an hour. Two inches of new snow.

Sun sets at 5:44 p.m., rises Friday at 6:28 a.m.; moon sets Friday at 12:08 a.m. Prominent star in Sirius.

Students at the University of Montevideo are shown as they demonstrated and clashed with police in front

Mass Graves for Victims of Quake

Rescue Team Officials Say 2,350 Buried, Many Areas Of Agadir Still Not Searched

BY HARVEY HUDSON

Agadir, Morocco — Rescue team officials said today 2,350 victims of the Agadir earthquake have been buried in mass graves and that whole areas of the city remain to be searched.

As the figure was disclosed, Moroccan army troops sealed off the city. U. S. military teams and hundreds of French sailors deployed through the streets spraying rubble with disinfectant.

Crown Prince Moulay Hassan ordered "all living souls to be evacuated from Agadir."

In ordering demolition of damaged houses, the crown prince took cognizance of a cabinet meeting decision, a palace spokesman said.

Demolish Houses
"It was decided that any houses which were cracked or in a condition not fit for living should be demolished," he said. "It was specifically ordered that no such demolition could be carried out until every living soul was removed first."

Loudspeaker trucks rolled through the streets calling for those who remained in homes with cracked walls to leave them. Moroccan troops were ordered to raze these damaged structures after they had been evacuated.

Turbaned Moroccan soldiers were ordered by the crown prince to sing while they cleared the city of corpses and cleaned the rubble away so that morale would not sag too greatly in face of the tragedy.

Rescue teams, wearing white protective masks, continued the grisly task of probing for dead and hoping to reach those who still lived.

Hope Grows Dim
Hope was growing dim for most still believed trapped in the ruins since two great earthquakes struck this city of 40,000 population last Monday night.

Moroccan government officials say they believe at least 5,000 were killed or injured in the quakes and tidal wave which followed.

An international Red Cross representative earlier had said he felt the figures would be 3,000 dead and 5,000 injured. But there was general agreement that no accurate count of the casualties would be possible.

One of those rescued from the rubble was Mrs. Gerald Martin of St. Albans, W. Va., and Wheaton, Md., wife of a U. S. air force lieutenant.

She was pulled from the wreckage of the Saaba hotel Wednesday, 38½ hours after the hotel collapsed about her and separated her from her husband and 1-year-old daughter. The family was reunited at the airport, and the 23-year-old wife did not appear to be seriously injured despite her ordeal.

English Princess Learns How to Drive Small Car
London — Princess Anne is learning to drive her father's midget car.

The queen's golden-haired 9-year-old daughter is still driving very slowly and cautiously. But friends report she is shaping up well behind the wheel.

Visiting American Sales Executive Elmore T. Mackenzie spotted Prince Philip giving the little princess a driving lesson in royal Windsor park at the weekend.

Minimum age for driving a car on the open highway in Britain is 17. But there is no law against driving on your own private roads.

Rep. Kastenmeier Offers Bill for Peace Agency
Washington — Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier (D-Wis.) today offered a bill that would create a national peace agency.

Such an agency, he said, would seek new methods of inspecting to enforce disarmament agreements, new ways of detecting atomic, poison-gas, germ-war and missile tests, and other techniques of a peace science.

"Our government spends over $40 billion a year on building military strength and something like $200,000 on planning for peace," he said.

Pair Will Not Take Names Off Oregon Ballot

Move Now Makes Johnson, Symington Official Candidates

Washington — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) are official candidates now for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The two presidential hopefuls backed into the race Wednesday with separate announcements they would not withdraw their names from the May 20 Oregon presidential primary. Both still avoided any direct statements that they are candidates.

Johnson said he was too involved in the senate filibuster on civil rights to give any attention to outside political matters. But he said he has "no plans to act in any way on the Oregon action."

Will Not File
This meant he would not file an affidavit with the Oregon secretary of state to take his name off the ballot. Oregon law requires that all nationally recognized candidates be named. They can withdraw only by filing a statement disavowing candidacy.

Johnson's announcement was interpreted as indicating he has not lost hope he can combine southern and western backing in a serious challenge for the nomination.

Johnson's southern support has been shaken by his action in bringing the civil rights issue before the senate. Some of his Dixie colleagues have sent word to him they don't think they can hold their state delegations for him if he eventually votes for a debate limitation to end the current southern filibuster, which he may have to do.

Without strong southern backing, Johnson may not be in a position to challenge Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) an announced candidate. Kennedy has been saying recently that Johnson is his biggest rival but that was before the civil rights controversy exploded.

Israeli Patrol Kills One Arab Infiltrator

Tel Aviv, Israel — The army said an Israeli patrol ran into three armed Arab infiltrators Wednesday east of the Gaza strip and killed one and wounded another in an exchange of gunfire.

The army claimed the three Arabs carried submachineguns and had penetrated 6.2 miles into Israeli territory. Israel filed a complaint with the U.N. expeditionary force assigned to keep the truce along the border.

Crossing Marked

Investigators Begin Check of Train Crash

Bakersfield, Calif. — Visibility good . . . a big oil tank truck at a rail crossing . . . a speeding train . . . a night-mare crash and fire . . . 14 dead . . . 72 injured.

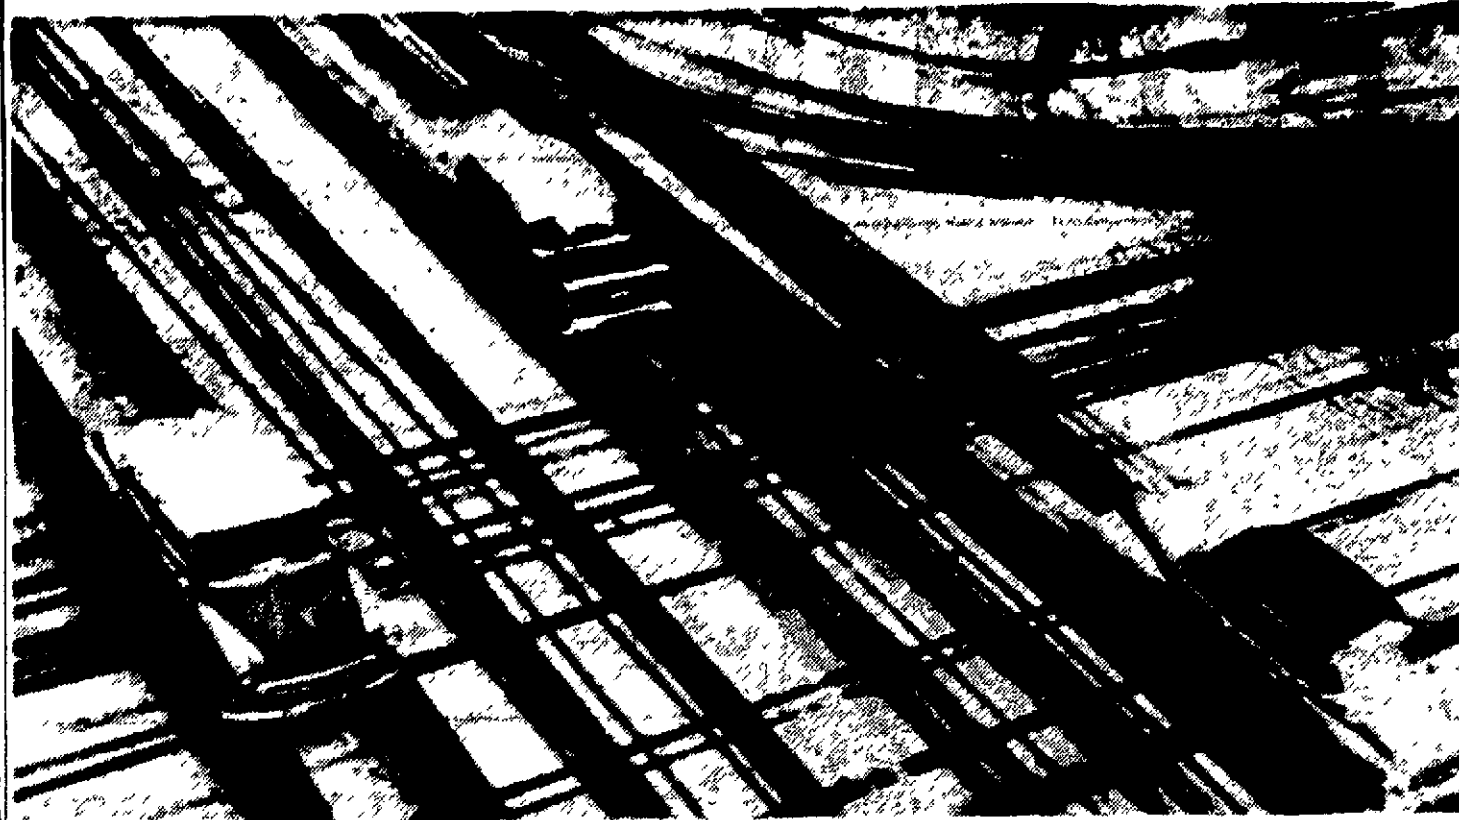

Squads of investigators, starting with those facts, tried today to find what caused the collision of the Santa Fe chief No. 2 streamliner, a San Francisco to Chicago passenger train, and a 2-trailer truck rig loaded with 7,000 gallons of crude oil.

It happened at 5:10 p. m. Tuesday at the marked Austin Hageman road crossing on quiet San Joaquin valley flatlands seven miles northwest of Bakersfield.

24 Escape Injury
Of the 109 aboard—78 passengers and 33 crewmen—only 24 escaped injury. Of the injured, some seriously and a few critically, 44 remained hospitalized today.

Trucker John Garrett, 48, of Bakersfield apparently tried to swerve his rig and leaped clear at the last instant. But an explosion of flames incinerated him in a roadside ditch.

Wall Street Broker Confesses to Stealing $270,000 Over 8 Years

New York — A Wall street broker with an expert knowledge of electronic business machines and a yen for gambling and high living has confessed all to the district attorney.

Haderer, Frank S. Haderer, 50, an approximately $270,000, stolen over a period of eight years from Walston and Company, Inc., members of the New York Stock exchange.

Frank B. Haderer, 50, an approximately $270,000, stolen over a period of eight years from Walston and Company, Inc., members of the New York Stock exchange.

Hogan's office said the Walston firm discovered the thefts while auditing stock exchange accounts of its employees.

No money belonging to clients was involved, the firm said. The losses are covered by insurance.

Haderer was discharged, and a surety company which covered the company's losses brought charges against him. Haderer was questioned all day Wednesday, and finally forgery and grand larceny charges were placed against him.

The district attorney's office said Haderer admitted everything, and explained in detail how he managed to take more than a quarter of a million dollars in amounts from $2,000 to $3,000 a month. He would go to the office after hours or on Sunday, and would alter IBM cards recording the firm's interest on money advanced to clients for stock purchases on margin, fixing them to show a smaller amount of interest than they should.

Then he would punch the amount of the difference on other IBM cards showing the accounts of himself and his wife for purchase of stocks.

Their personal accounts would then be used to buy stock and sell it for cash.

The cash, the district attorney's office said, went mainly for trips to the gambling tables in Las Vegas and visits to New York night clubs, where Haderer had charge accounts.

The Walston firm has offices in 61 cities. Haderer, authorities said, has paid back a small amount of the stolen funds.

10 Delegates Selected by Kennedy Club

La Crosse — The Wisconsin Kennedy for President club turned to each congressional district Wednesday in naming the 10 at-large delegate candidates pledged to presidential aspirant Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Albert DiPiazza of La Crosse, a member of the club's steering committee, announced the delegate slate. The candidates will run in the April 5 presidential preference primary.

Atty. Gen. John Reynolds, State Treasurer Eugene Lamb and Rep. Clement Zablocki (D-Milwaukee) head the list.

Other at-large candidates are Mayor Ivan Nestingen, Madison; David Rabinovitz, Sheboygan, state Democratic party treasurer; Greg Lucey, Prairie du Chien, father of State Democratic Chairman Pat Lucey; Jack Milward, Kenosha; State Sen. Bob Dean, Rothschild; John Green, Superior, and Francis Conway Thorp, president of the Thorp Finance company.

DiPiazza said the at-large delegates were selected by the steering committee on the basis of one from each congressional district "to make the slate truly representative of the entire state."

Kennedy supporters originally elected six delegates for each congressional district with the intent of having the steering committee pick the at-large delegates from the complete list.

Brillion Marine Held in Chicago Rape Attempt

Chicago — Lawrence Zuelke, 17, a Marine from Brillion, Wis., was arrested Wednesday night in connection with the attempted rape of a 24-year-old switchboard operator as she left her job at Midway airport.

Police said Zuelke admitted attacking the girl. They quoted him as saying he was waiting for a plane to take him back to his base at Barstow, Calif., when he spotted the woman, followed her to a vacant lot and threw her to the ground. A nearby resident saw the attack, however, and frightened Zuelke, police said, and he fled.

The woman was driven around the southwest side neighborhood by two detectives and she sighted the marine on a street corner and identified him as her attacker. He was held without charge.

Can't Ignore Threats to Red Friends

Khrushchev Makes Statement During Visit to Afghanistan

Kabul, Afghanistan — Nikita Khrushchev warned Wednesday night that Russia cannot ignore "designs, intrigues and dangerous policies" directed against friendly neighbors. His target obviously was western - allied Pakistan, currently embroiled in a bitter dispute with Afghanistan.

The Soviet premier dropped the warning at a diplomatic reception ending the first day of his 3-day visit to this neutralist nation on the Soviet Union's southern border.

Khrushchev did not elaborate on his statement, but there was no doubt he had in mind the quarrel between Afghanistan and Pakistan over four million Pathan tribesmen living in Pakistan.

The Pathans in Afghanistan, the country's largest single population group, consider the tribesmen in Pakistan their blood brothers. For years the Afghan government has argued that Pakistan should give them the right of self-determination. Pakistan has rejected the proposal, insisting that the tribesmen are part of its national population.

Khrushchev arrived at a time when both radio Kabul and radio Pakistan were firing their heaviest propaganda barrages over the dispute in years.

Afghan Premier Mohammad Daud also indirectly touched on the issue last night, asserting that "intrigues from a certain quarter" would not endanger Afghanistan or hinder its development.

Both Khrushchev and Daud declared that relations between their countries were based solidly on equality and mutual respect. Daud added that his government follows the same policy in dealing with all nations.

GOP Governor Hopeful Hits Democrat's Ideas

Elm Grove — Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells, Republican gubernatorial hopeful, told the Elm Grove Republican club that Democratic thinking is "superficial and immature," and added "if we are to bring new business to Wisconsin, we have to make Wisconsin attractive for industrial expansion."

He blamed Democrats for a "discouraging" property tax he said which resulted in many Wisconsin businesses moving out of the state.

Cab Driver Wounds Wife, Kills Self

San Francisco City Hall Scene Of Shooting

San Francisco — A blast of gunfire shattered the quiet in a gleaming marble corridor of city hall Wednesday as a cab driver wounded his wife and her attorney and then killed himself.

The driver, Jeremiah H. Cozzens, 59, died in Mission Emergency hospital of a bullet in the head after the shooting outside the court of domestic relations.

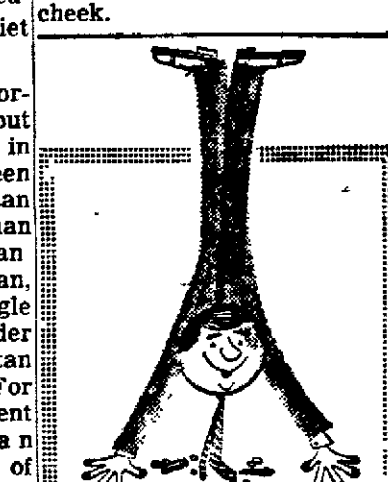

In serious condition, but expected to recover, are his wife, Winifred, 47, formerly of Inglewood, Calif., and her attorney, John Lockley, 47, a former assistant U.S. attorney.

Wanted for Wife
Cozzens had waited in the corridor for his wife to return to Judge Norman Elkington's superior court after a recess in a hearing for annulment of their Feb. 4 marriage. In addition to an annulment, Mrs. Cozzens sought an order restraining him from harming her.

As Elkington was hearing another case, five shots rang out and Lockley staggered into the court room, gasping, "Your honor, I've been shot!"

The attorney slumped to the courtroom floor, blood spurting from the neck. The bullet had narrowly missed his spinal column.

Ultimate Aim

Appleton's aldermen indicated the city ultimately will move for total annexation of most of Grand Chute's populated areas and plans for services to be offered must be made now.

Key to the move was the city's final "annexation or nothing" statement to the town of Menasha at a meeting on the town's sewage problems nearly a month ago. The city's avowed policy is never to furnish selected services to any area because it impedes future annexation. The city can only grow through total annexation, say aldermen and officials.

Total-equalized valuation of the seven districts (six in Outagamie county, one in Calumet) involved is $28,501,800, with an elementary school load of 479 pupils.

The council faces inevitable attachment of the districts for school purposes, the county school committee has indicated, so must plan the city's policies toward the areas before the 1962 deadline, aldermen commented.

The problem in the west and north side areas results from a ridge which runs along the Soo Line railroad tracks and County Trunk JJ. To serve the areas without a new interceptor along the river and north from Mud creek would require lift stations which are not economically feasible, Duszynski said.

Could Serve South

The interceptor along the river also could serve the Palisades area south of the city, it was pointed out.

Two Volumes on Abraham Lincoln were presented to the Appleton Public library by the Outagamie County Federation of Republican women. Chief Librarian Miss Edith Rechcyg, center, accepted the books from Mrs. C. C. Schroeder, left, and Mrs. M. H. Bunnow. The books were dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Lewis C. Sleeper, former secretary of the federation. The volumes presented were "Lincoln and the Civil War: A Profile and History," and "Created Equal?" the complete Lincoln - Douglas debates of 1858.

Gillham's Wife Protests Husband Still Loves Her

Says He Didn't Mean to Shoot Her As She Testifies in Murder Hearing

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Waupaca — Mrs. Gloria Gillham protested Wednesday she is still loved by her former husband, Garvin, 33, who faces first degree murder charges in the death of her employer, Frank Heideman, 40, route 2, New London, Jan. 8.

Testifying at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace George Whalen, Mrs. Gillham, 23, said Gillham, who shot her three times, "didn't mean to shoot me because he loves me."

Gillham also is charged with attempted first degree murder and doing great bodily injury to his wife and attempted murder in the wounding of County Patrolman Lyle McCully.

Marital Relations

The tangled Gillham marital relations were related Wednesday but the testimony hit a snag when Mrs. Gillham refused to testify to her divorce because she said the testimony would be self-incriminating.

During cross-examination based on Tuesday's testimony, David Gillham, 20, the accused's nephew and an eye witness to the slaying, said he heard Heideman tell his uncle he would "get him" after knocking Gillham down with a pitchfork.

Mrs. Gillham refused to answer when Defense Atty. Allen Cain pressed for information about a divorce said to have been granted in Las Vegas.

"Let's forget about it. What has it got to do with this murder?" she said as Cain asked if she or Heideman got the divorce papers.

Asks for Papers

Cain asked the court to impound the divorce papers said to be in the hands of Dist. Atty. Gerald Anderson. No action was taken when the district attorney could not be found. A special prosecutor, Richard Johnson, is handling the case for the state.

Mrs. Gillham testified her marriage had been marked with some six separations during three of which she stayed with Heideman and his late mother.

Nov. 14 last year and came to live with her grandmother, Mrs. John Finkle, in New London. On Christmas eve she moved to the Heideman farm where she worked as a housekeeper. She said she had gone to the farm several times to clean after returning to New London.

Tried Reconciliation

Gillham made several attempts at reconciliation, Mrs. Gillham said. These included numerous phone calls and an 8-page letter.

She testified she was in hiding from Gillham when he came to the Heideman farm on Christmas eve and Heideman drove him off with a shotgun after an argument.

The following day, she testified, Gillham went to her grandmother's home looking for her and he had an argument with the grandmother.

Mrs. Gillham testified her grandmother did not like Gillham and had urged her to break off the marriage. She said her grandmother wanted her to marry Heideman.

Worked Since 15

Mrs. Gillham said she had worked for Heideman, who was divorced, since she was 15 years old and testified that he had taken her to shows.

She testified she hid behind a cow in the barn after Gillham arrived at the farm Jan. 8 and did not see Heideman knock Gillham down although she did see the farmer hold him at bay with a pitchfork.

When Heideman went to the house to call the police, Mrs. Gillham testified her former husband told her, "If I can't have you, nobody can. I guess I'll just have to kill you and myself." To prove his point, she said, he fired three rounds into the barn.

Saw Killing

When Heideman returned to the barn she warned him Gillham was going to kill them but he told her to go to the house and not to worry that all he was doing was trying to scare him. Then she said she saw Gillham kill Heideman.

She was wounded later as she huddled in the attic of the farm house. She said she could not see Gillham and was sure he could not see her when she was shot.

Sheriff Ray Abrahamson testified he received a telephone call from Gillham on Christmas day in which Gillham charged that Mrs. Gillham was living with another man. Abrahamson said he turned the complaint over to the district attorney.

Tanker Explodes After Derailment

Danbury —A tank car containing manufactured gas exploded and burned Wednesday when a Soo line freight train derailed near here Wednesday. No one was injured.

Seven other cars beside the tank car overturned. Two went into the St. Croix river. The caboose containing three trainmen derailed but remained upright.

The wreck occurred about a half mile north of the Danbury depot, blocking traffic on the line between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Duluth-Superior.

Publicity Problem New One For State Republican Party

GOP Finds Democrats in More Favorable Position

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—Republican politicians of Wisconsin are facing a problem that is new to most of them and they have not yet devised a way to deal with it.

How can they manage the publicity with which to remind the people that their party is alive and kicking, and eager to compete with the Democrats?

For more than 20 years public attention came easily and naturally, almost without artificial effort. Then came the Democratic capture of the state government, which transformed Gov. Nelson from a relatively inconspicuous state senator into a prime political news maker. Now comes a presidential primary in which the contest is among Democratic contenders and the news media as a consequence put little emphasis upon the fact that there will be a Republican ballot for the April 5 election too.

Earnest Struggle

The rivalry between Sens. Kennedy and Humphrey for vital Wisconsin support in their presidential bids has shown a compelling news impetus because of the earnestness of their struggle, the size of their campaign organizations and budgets, and the unprecedented personal hand-shaking and stump speaking tours of the candidates during long days touring the Wisconsin countryside.

In contrast, Vice President Richard Nixon will be unchallenged on the Wisconsin Republican presidential preference ballot, and he has already told his Wisconsin backers that he does not intend to make any personal campaign efforts here.

The dominance of state-house political news by Gov. Nelson's office and the acts of his administration is normal, but it is something with which the Republicans are not familiar, nevertheless. Some of them are only now appreciating the advantages they had in that respect during 20 years of uninterrupted state capitol control, and remembering that their governors were not always as skilled or energetic in pressing their publicity advantage.

Significant Contest

Republican headquarters men are already reconciled to the probability that the total Democratic vote in the April primary will be greater than the Republican vote—contrary to Wisconsin experience. For the first time in a long time the Democrats have a significant contest. Usually the Republicans had provided the presidential primary competition.

Elks Club Gives Awards To Seniors

Four Appleton High school seniors have been named winners in the Appleton Elks lodge youth leadership and valuable student contests.

Nea Lee Nissen won first place in the girls' youth leadership contest; Tom Liethen, first place in boys' youth leadership; Marcia Arnoldysen, most valuable girl student; and Carl Kluess, most valuable boy student.

Each of the four will receive a $50 cash prize.

Other competitors for the leadership award were Steve Bradford, William Barney, LaVahn Hoh, Carl Malmstrom, John Taylor, Barbara Casper, Nancy Wink, Janet Herzfeldt and Sharon Bauerlein.

David Anderson, Rochelle Cohen, Dave LaViolette, Tom Liethen, John Lard, Dick Natrop, Nea Lee Nissen and Bette Saiberlich were candidates for the most valuable student award.

AHS faculty members selected the students who entered. To qualify, each student submitted a booklet of recommendations, a theme and newspaper clippings. Winners were judged on the basis of leadership, citizenship, appreciation, honor and the booklet. Grades were considered in the most valuable student contest.

Store Owner, 84, Has Better Record Than Would-be Thieves

Irvington, N.J. — Anybody who wants to rob Frank Gilfol's liquor store had better think twice and then change his mind.

Gilfol put two bullets into a fleeing bandit who tried to hold up the store Tuesday night. There was a blood-stained trail for police to follow.

The robbers' score over the years: Five attempts, not a cent stolen. Gilfol's score: One bandit killed, two wounded and three disarmed. The 140-pound, bespectacled Gilfol keeps a gun and a club within reach behind the counter. He is 84 years old.

Review of Work Load for Circuit Judges Planned

Madison — A program for the reapportionment of circuit judges and their work loads will probably be presented to the legislature next year.

The judiciary committee of the legislative council has asked the judicial council to work out a redistricting of the circuit courts of the state. The council will undertake the task through a special committee now being organized by Francis Wilcox of Eau Claire.

The legislature has repeatedly altered circuit court districts in recent years by individual enactments pressed by local bar groups, but a reorganization plan would be the proper function of the council which has research and statistical resources.

Use of Sulphite Solids Is New Industry

Manufacture of By-Products is Self-Supporting

Byproducts manufactured from spent sulphite liquor solids have reached the stature of a self-supporting industry with volume production, declares the 1959 annual report of the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research League. But this new industry has a long way to go before it runs out of raw material, the report points out.

The 65 sulphite pulp mills in the U.S. produce about 8,000 tons of collectible sulphite solids per day. Eleven of these mills are equipped to process some 1,500 tons per day, about 19 per cent of the total. Of these eleven in the U.S. five are Wisconsin member mills of the Sulphite league. Last year these five Wisconsin mills processed into byproducts about 705 tons per day, 211,000 tons during 1959. This was 47 per cent of all the sulphite solids that were processed in the U.S.

Nine year ago about 15 per cent of total available liquor solids in Wisconsin were utilized for byproducts, and practically no other solids were disposed of non-pollutionally. In 1959 about 45 per cent were utilized and 20 per cent were non-pollutionally disposed of.

Increased Wage

"Processes yet to be perfected are certain to keep this curve rising steeply during the next ten years," asserts Averill J. Wiley, league technical director, because "experience of the past decade testifies that soundly conceived and fostered utilization of byproduct values can be made to pay its way."

The increased proportion of sulphite solids going into higher levels of utilization was emphasized by Stanton W. Mead, president of the league and also of Consolidated Water Power and Paper company, in his annual report. "Any use of spent liquor is desirable if it serves human

Hired Ghost Writer, Student Suspended

Bloomington, Ind. — (AP) — Indiana university Wednesday suspended a graduate student on grounds he hired a professional ghost writer to prepare his doctoral degree thesis.

University officials declined to identify the student, except to say he is not now on the campus and lives in New Jersey.

"Work which has not been done by a student obviously will not be accepted by Indiana university," said Prof. Robert W. Richey, acting director of the doctoral program. "The student is being notified of his suspension as a degree candidate pending formal action by his graduate committee."

needs," Mead pointed out. "but the higher the value of this use, the better for all concerned. In this past year the member mills with evaporator plants boosted by more than two-thirds their tonnage of concentrated sulphite solids sold for raw material to other industries, with an almost precisely equal decrease in the tonnage they burned, since they already were evaporating all the spent liquor they could collect. Other high-value uses showed increases all the way across the board."

Cites Plan for River Aeration

Wisconsin Waters Restored Through Pulp League Work

"More than 1550 tons of oxygen were restored to low-oxygen river waters in Wisconsin last summer through turbine re-aeration by pulp and paper mills," Stanton W. Mead announced in the annual report of Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research league.

"This equals the oxygen improvement attainable through building and operating a conventional $2,500,000 plant for providing full secondary treatment to handle all sewage of a city of 50,000 population."

"During 1959, turbine aeration really came of age," explained Mead, who is president of the League and also of Consolidated Water Power and Paper company, Wisconsin Rapids. "Turbine aeration is the only method thus far demonstrated as economically practical for adding dissolved oxygen to a stream after the oxygen has fallen below a desirable level."

on turbine aeration has been freely extended to others for the good of the streams. In 1959 eight Wisconsin mills regularly used turbine aeration. Of these, six were League member mills and two were non-members. $626,211 Paid In Taxes During 1st Two Months

Treasurer Reports
About 75 Per Cent
Of Tax Levy Raised

Kaukauna — A total of $626,211.67 in real estate and personal property taxes was paid during the first two months this year representing slightly under 75 per cent of the total tax levy of $842,624.68.

In the same period in 1959 a total of $630,614.94 was collected, representing slightly over 75 per cent of the $843,082.93 levy. The remainder of the money will be collected by the county treasurer on the 50-50 payment plan or be classed delinquent.

Number Paying
The treasurer reported 3,224 persons paid real estate taxes amounting to $521,284.58 during the first two months compared to 3,203 paying last year. Personal property taxes collected in 1960 amounted to $104,927.09 with 238 persons paying whereas 241 paid in the same period in 1959.

Miss Wolf in reporting tax payments made special mention of appreciation due the police department for assistance in her many trips to the bank during tax collection season. She also reported a few persons have been mailing their tax bills in now that the deadline for payment has passed. These late arrivals usually carry a check for the correct amount of tax with no allowance for penalty for late payment.

Mayor Tells Club He's Against Reassessment

2,331 Home Owners Would Suffer Most
By Such a Move, Bayorgeon Says

Kaukauna — Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon spoke out against a reassessment for the city during his annual budget report to members of the Rotary club Wednesday.

Bayorgeon said, if state recommended assessments were adopted, it would affect 2,331 home owners the hardest. Using charts and graphs to illustrate his point the mayor showed residential property assessed at 38 per cent of state recommended value.

Mercantile property is assessed at 35 per cent of the value recommended by the state.

In assessing, inequalities are bound to be found, but the city is doing its best to make sure each property owner pays a just share of the taxes, added Bayorgeon.

Budget Breakdown
To simplify the budget explanation after giving the total figures, Bayorgeon broke down the distribution of $37 tax rate as to the schools, city, county and state. He broke down an individual dollar showing 59 cents going to the schools, 22.6 cents to the city, 17.3 cents to the county and 1.1 cent to the state.

The mayor showed a chart covering 10 years of progress and growth in the community as to population, homes, schools, library, automobiles, curbs and gutters, sidewalks, annexations and new plats.

Speaking of the bonded indebtedness, Bayorgeon reported the city was in excellent shape and far from the limit of indebtedness permitted a municipality. He reported the swimming pool bond would be retired this year and pointed to the great usage of the pool for local and outside people. Coincidentally he added, he would continue to oppose any plan whereby local children would be charged for use of the pool.

Bayorgeon also had figures and charts showing the growth of the Kaukauna Electric and Water departments within the last 10 years. He pointed to the increase in customers, the increase in taxes paid the community and other benefits derived from the locally owned utility.

This year will see the installation of an iron removal unit for No. 8 well, said Bayorgeon, another benefit for citizens and by 1962 he promised iron removal equipment would be installed at all city wells.

Jay Hawkers Win 1st in Teenage Kegling Leagues

Kaukauna — Roll-off games between first and second place finishers in the Tuesday and Thursday Night Teenage leagues, sponsored by the recreation department, were held at Verbeten's alleys with the Jay Hawkers winning two of three games from the Lucky Rollers to be declared city champs.

The winners finished with an overall record of 28 wins and five losses while the Lucky Rollers finished with a 27-6 mark. Third place went to the Handicaps with an 18-14 mark after defeating the Beatniks in two straight games. The latter finished fourth with a 17-15 mark.

Top kegler in the roll-off was Jim Schuman with a 232 singleton and a 2-game series of 373. Other high scores were Lee Anderson, 176, 346; Dick Fahrback, 175, 345; Leigh Wachel, 177, 334; Del Bowers, 178, 323; Den Vande Hey, 174, 320; Roger Leick, 171, 312; Tom Ashauer, 186, 312; John Diehrich, 160; Gene Fahrback, 180, and Terry Schaefer, 155.

Juke Family 'Research' Belongs to Hall of Ill Fame, Agrees Charlie

The most inlaid family in all history descended from a happy ne'er-do-well named, for convenience, Max Juke. Max, a Hollander, became the subject of an intense study by a sometime criminologist named Richard Dugdale who was also a big fibber.

"If there were an international hall of ill fame," wrote Samuel Hopkins Adams, "they (the Jukes) would get top billing." This is undoubtedly true. No family in the history of the world has ever been so violently mistreated nor besmirched, and now the name Jukes has come to be synonymous with depravity, lewdness, insanity and crime.

My encyclopedia states as factual that the Jukes were degenerates indeed, and information came from Mr. Dugdale who, in 1884, wrote a book titled "The Jukes: A Study in Crime, Pauperism, Disease and Insanity."

The book became a social document and to this day is quoted as an authoritative account of a shockingly horrid family.

The score of the Jukes based on the say-so of Mr. Dugdale and a later student named Eastabrook stands like this:

Out of 2,820 descendants of old Max Juke, there were a reported 366 paupers, 171 criminals, 282 intemperates, and 277 harlots. That's a high score, but Mr. Dugdale also placed calumny upon the Jukes' heads by listing other members as "lazy," "brothel-keeper," "petty thief though never convicted," "supposed to have committed rape," and "guilty of murder but escaped punishment."

It all began in 1873 when Mr. Dugdale happened in a police court in Kingston, N.Y., where one of the Juke boys was on trial for receiving stolen goods. In the court also were five other members of the Juke family and their unpleasantness interested Dugdale to such an extent that he embarked upon a long research on the family.

Big Whopper

For this, he was employed by the New York State Prison association. He turned out a whopper which specified, among other things, that in a 75-year period, the Juke family had cost the state of New York (in prison, institutional and relief costs) a fearful total of $2,093,685.

Dugdale's first effort at research proved rewarding. Following his visit to the Kingston court, he was able to report that of 29 immediate male relatives of the six Jukes assembled, 17 were criminals, and 15 others had been convicted of some legal offense. That is an excellent score — 32 criminals out of a possible 29 persons. Such faulty mathematics did not daunt the courageous researcher, nor generations of teachers of sociology.

Ultimately Dugdale re-

An American Movement Symbol Seen in Commonplace

The thousands of small, new fiction and non-fiction seemingly unimportant events books at the Appleton public library.

Juvenile delinquency, literature, politics, education and to be 1-shot affairs without significance on the total American scene.

But to Max Lerner these events are common impulses of people in a common movement toward a new and better life. In his newest book, "The Unfinished Country," Lerner, a columnist for the New York Post, has combined his columns into groups indicative of the American movement. The volume is currently on display among and writing, David I. Blumenstock, a climatologist for the U.S. weather bureau, has produced a volume called "The Ocean of Air." The new book is a thorough analysis of the atmosphere from its outer reaches at the edge of space to the air penetrating the topsoil which governs the germination of seeds.

Perry Mason Novel
Literature of the two decades prior to the Civil war — the time of Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Poe, Whitman and Melville — fills a volume edited by Perry Miller, professor of American literature at Harvard. The works of the great American romantic authors are introduced by Miller with reference to their beginning's with Ralph Waldo Emerson and his "The American Scholar."

Other new non-fiction titles are "Churchill," an oversize volume of photographs compiled by H. Tatlock Miller and Loudon Sainthill; "The Best Short Plays of 1958-1959," edited by Margaret Naughton and including work by William Inge and Edwin R. Procter; "Hi-Fi Stereo for Your Home," by Arthur Whitman, a fact book on what stereo is and how it is best used; and "The Balanced Life," by Hans Freund, an examination of the problem of ethics and leading a good and successful life.

Mystery writer Erle Stanley Gardner has completed his 100th novel. His newest work is "The Case of the Waylaid Wolf," and it deals with a young lady who files assault charges against a wealthy playboy and finds she has to fight for her life, as well as for her good name. Perry Mason, of course, is the hero. One wildly crowded day in the life of a young man who wants clear the web of deceit he has woven around his name is the subject of "Billy Liar," a dynamic and humorous second novel by Keith Waterhouse.

Other new novels are "Stranger in Two Worlds," by Hugh Clevely, a tale of a man who was born of peasant stock and later is adopted by a frivolous English Lord "A Girl with Class," by Dave Wallis, the story of a lonely young secretary and an ambitious young Cockney with an eye for lonely secretaries; and "The Silver Key," by Clifford Lindsey Alderman, an adventure story of a treasure hunt in sunken Spanish galleons off the Florida keys.

One Day Delivery of Mail in Wisconsin

The Wisconsin Metro Plan, which the Post Office Department is planning to put into effect in Wisconsin "will be the greatest improvement of service in the state in years," Clarence Knudson, regional operations director for the U. S. Postal Service at Minneapolis, told the Wisconsin postmasters at a meeting in Madison last Sunday.

The plan calls for 1-day delivery of first class mail to any point in Wisconsin. That is, a letter posted before 5 p.m. will be delivered to any destination within the state the following day.

To accomplish this it is proposed to set up sectional offices in 13 cities. They are Green Bay, Eau Claire, LaCrosse, Madison, Marshfield, Milwaukee, New Lisbon, Oshkosh, Portage, Rhinelander, Sheboygan, Spooner and Wausau. Only three trains will be used. They are a Soo Line train and a Milwaukee Road train running between Chicago and Minneapolis and a Chicago and North Western train between Chicago and Green Bay. Most of the mail will be transported by chartered trucks on Star Routes and by highway post office mobile units connecting the sectional cities. The postal clerks aboard these units will work the mail en route just as it is worked in the mailcars on trains.

The plan calls for each sectional center to have its mail collected, including all letters dropped as late as 5 p.m., delivered to the center area and passed on to the appropriate outgoing trucks in time to reach their destination at about 4:45 a.m. to be delivered by the carriers that day. Success will depend upon careful scheduling of trucks and the handling of mail at the terminals to make certain that each letter is moved out on the right truck ready to be delivered to a connecting truck line or a post office.

However, the technicalities may safely be left to the Post Office Department. The plan was first used in New York beginning in 1958 but within about a year the Post Office Department set up 46 such area plans and the goal calls for 90 by August of 1960.

Mr. Knudson, the operations director for this area, says there probably will be no additional cost since, in Minneapolis, a similar plan actually resulted in a reduction in expenses. It is cheering news also that the Metro Plan is only a part of a nationwide mail speed-up program that eventually will include air transportation of first class mail between major cities. The Post Office Department has made some real progress in the handling of mail during the past few years. Under the direction of Postmaster Gen. Arthur E. Summerfield, there has been an intelligent approach to the technical post office problems. Great progress has been made in spite of the opposition that has come from Congress.

Unfortunately it appears that too many congressmen regard the Post Office Department as an important political instrument which can be used to help them get votes. If some magic means could be found to get Congress off the backs of the leaders of the Post Office Department tremendous progress would be possible to the great advantage of the people and probably at lower cost than the present service requires.

How Bureaucrats Defend Their Positions

Some reports out of Washington give the idea that a bureaucrat in charge of a large department is practically autonomous and that even a small bureaucrat more than half way up in a department may wield the powers of a czar over those subject to him.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.) who has built up a remarkable reputation as a careful and thorough investigator recently reported an incident which should have more attention. The senator says that about two years ago an employee of the Internal Revenue Service was fired for insubordination. The senator was surprised to learn that the "insubordination" consisted of his refusal to take a lie detector test proposed by a bureaucrat in the department who was attempting to learn which, if any, employee was giving information to the senator.

It is reported that the lie detector stunt was stopped promptly when treasury officials of high rank learned of it. Furthermore, the senator says the person who was discharged had never given him any information.

Training for What?

While various political leaders are arguing the merits or defects of our missile program and whether or not to keep a 24-hour alert, Defense Sec. Thomas Gates is busy ordering an investigation into the production of training manuals for the armed services.

The Air Force is the recipient of most of the heat at present but probably the search will turn up plenty of nonsense in the other services as well. The Air Force has a booklet, naturally printed at public expense, detailing the mixing of cocktails and how to encourage people to order them. This treatise also explains how to wash generals' dogs. Another warned of communist infiltration in churches and in the writing of recent revised versions of the Bible.

A third, titled "Operation and First Echelon Maintenance of Food Service Equipment" was apparently aimed at those brought up in homes where fingers alone are used for eating. "The fork is used to lift, turn or move large or small pieces of food in a sanitary and practical manner . . . Grasp handle of fork firmly and pierce object to be moved, lifted or turned deep enough to secure a good hold . . . Knives are used to cut, slice, or chop foods in portions and to remove meat from the bones of a carcass . . ." There also is advice on how to use "non-mechanical potato peelers" for those sent so far into the wild blue yonder they are deprived of modern equipment.

These heights of idiocy may have been turned out by new masters in the technique of gold bricking or maybe they represent the degeneration of the bureaucratic mind which has no sense of humor. It might be a good idea to turn all the funds for manuals over to the missile program or we won't need to know how to use forks or mix cocktails anyway.

Odd Winter

Last winter set some records as far as snowfall, number of frigid days and breathless drops in temperature were concerned. Perhaps just to even things up or maybe simply to confuse us, this winter has established a pattern of mild days, melting snow and sunny skies after a murky autumn.

The fact that the Fox river has remained almost completely open throughout what is usually the most ice bound time of year may be a source of grumbling to the skaters who scorn the limits of rinks. But there is a memory of spring about the open water which is kept quiet in the usual frigid months of a Wisconsin winter. Maybe in a way we won't appreciate April and May as much when they do come because of the lack of contrast.

But in the meantime, while we suspect there may be blizzards waiting to swoop down upon us, we can drink in the sun, watch the flowing river and somehow hear song sparrows warbling in the not too far distance.

Communists Brainwashing Cuban People

From The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

The paradox of the situation which finds Fidel Castro's red Cuban dictatorship at grave odds with the United States is that the long and traditional friendship between the Cuban people and our people so far has remained undamaged.

But there is danger for the future in the fact that the Cuban people are not being told the truth and are being subjected to a brainwashing trick perfected by the fasc-cists and communists — the constant repetition of the big lie.

The big lie technique is possible only in a country where the press has been suppressed and its freedom replaced by government dictate.

That has happened in Cuba by terror, by confiscation and by orders to pro-Castro unions to edit independent newspapers by appending their own comments to articles considered unfavorable to the dictatorship.

Thus, the editor and publisher of the respected, independent Havana "Avance," Jorge Zayas, fled for his life to this country and what remains in Cuba is Castro's "kept press" and newspapers which have knuckled under to intimidation.

There is no reason why we cannot tell our friends, the Cuban people, the truth that Castro denies them.

We urge that Ambassador Philip Bonsal, recalled for consultation on the "regrettable deterioration" of U. S.-Cuban relations, and Sec. of States Christian Herter take steps to get the truth to Cuba.

That can be done by radio, and the U. S. Information service is fully equipped to do it. There is no reason for us to remain silent while a communist bastion is established at our doorstep. There is every reason to tell the truth and keep on telling it.

Hard to Believe Our War-Time Pacific Commanders are Aging

From The Chicago Sun-Times

To those who served in their ranks it is a little hard to realize that the two men who commanded our forces in the Pacific in World War II are, in terms of years, venerable old men. Gen. Douglas MacArthur just celebrated his 80th birthday. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz is looking forward to a ceremonial celebration of his 75th Feb. 24. Eighteen years have passed since these two men entered their time of greatest trial and glory.

Two more strikingly different men could hardly have been found to lead the war in the Pacific — MacArthur, the flamboyant, restless, imagination-arresting leader of men; Nimitz, the soft-spoken, deeply thoughtful, meticulous planner. The trait they shared was military brilliance, and they complemented each other admirably.

Adm. Nimitz's task was, at first, to hang on and yield as little as possible. Later, as ships were built and men were trained, he built a bridge of ships, bases and men across the Pacific to join with MacArthur's forces to annihilate Japanese strength.

Gen. MacArthur's job, once he had reestablished a foothold in Australia after the crushing loss of the Philippines, was to apply pressure against the Japanese from the other side and to increase that pressure to the breaking point.

Within the broad outlines of the grand strategy were tasks and problems unprecedented in the history of warfare — tasks not only of massive logistics, but of grasping and turning to best use the potentials of new weapons — and of co-ordinating land, sea and air forces. Both men had to improvise, because there had never been a war like this one. Both did it superbly, and came together in the moment of final triumph in the harbor of Tokyo.

We wish the general of the armies and the admiral of the fleet many more years of life, to enjoy the nation's gratitude for a job well done.

Looking Backward

Why Not Outagamie County?

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 3, 1860.

Mr. Neville has a bill before the Legislature, with a fair prospect of passing, to reduce the iniquitous State Equalization of Brown County for 1859 from $720 to $4 per acre.

Will our Senator and Assemblyman make a similar effort for Outagamie county? Our county, in comparison with the State, ought not to have been equalized at more than $5 per acre, and with that valuation, high as it is for a heavily timbered region, where timber as yet is more of an incumbrance than otherwise, the people would be well satisfied.

Thursday, Feb. 23, 1935

The administration's $5,000,000 unemployment relief bill was passed by the senate that day under suspension of the rules without a dissenting vote and massaged immediately to the assembly.

Henry Ford, in a letter to Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, predicted wages would reach higher levels than ever before because of experienced and far-sighted industrial management.

Organization of Fidelity chapter, Order of Eastern Star, in 1897, was recalled by Miss Ada Myers, the only charter member who still was active.

Improvements to the Neenah Washington school at an approximate cost of $40,000 was to be undertaken it was decided by Neenah city council at an informal session. C. F. Hedges, superintendent of schools, and members of the board of education met with the council to discuss the project which the council had struck from the budget.

Thursday, March 2, 1950

The United Mine Workers were found innocent of contempt of court in the 25-day soft coal strike. Federal Judge Richmond B. Keck, who heard the case without a jury, announced a verdict of "not guilty" on both the civil and criminal contempt charges.

Observations About Politics, Government

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Some reflections upon the current political scene, sober and otherwise:

Many an aspiring candidate confounds a devotion to good government with a craving for a place on the public payroll.

"Home rule," in some political minds, can be defined as a scheme for spending it here and taxing for it elsewhere.

Is there a more cruelly abused word in the lingo of bureaucracy than "research?" Once it meant an effort at scientific inquiry. Today to many public employees it means going to the library to borrow somebody else's work, footnotes and all.

Modern beatitude: The meek won't ever inherit any offices.

'IT WILL SAVE MONEY'

The most tiresome phrase recurring in governmental proceedings: "This will save money in the long range."

I'll buy dinner for the legislative finance committee on that day that any public official testifies that he has "adequate personnel."

The committee of business executives that is looking into ways to make state government more efficient is doomed to fail, perhaps gloriously, but doomed nevertheless. The reason is that it

Trace Story of GI's Trouble With Army

From The New York Daily News

Our heads spin rapidly as we try to follow the story of Pvt. Thomas De Luca, 22, of Corona, Queens, sprung from Governors Island Monday by Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson on a habeas corpus writ.

Lets see, now. De Luca signs on for the army reserve, does six months' active duty, then misses some drills, so is stuck for 45 days' extra duty, then is hauled into the army, but before that is issued an honorable discharge. He landed in the Governor's Island jail, apparently because of a clash between army regulation 135-90, subd. 8-d, and Form DD-44, item 12.

You figure it out; we can't. All we can say is that De Luca got a 3-year run-around from the army, and that this story isn't quite the best army recruiting publicity we could imagine.

will know only what the state functionaries tell. An anonymous corporation executive could do more for the cause by getting into the civil service for six months than this committee will achieve in a month of routine hearings.

The complete cycle of excuses: 15 years ago there was grumbling that the medical schools didn't turn out enough doctors. The explanation was that they lacked clinical facilities. Today there is new grumbling. The explanation is that there aren't enough students.

The speech-writers in Washington who prepare the oratorical materials for visiting candidates know the Wisconsin political alphabet: Wisconsin raises milk; it has some fish; its political patron saint was LaFollette.

A legislative committee solemnly sat down the other day to study what's wrong with public health services in Wisconsin.

The first thing it learned is that the Wisconsin public health record is good, better than the national average, in fact better than that of surrounding states in spite of the primitive organization of the Wisconsin system that led to the fulfilled study of the "problem."

WELL SAID

The ladies of the League of Women Voters have started a campaign for the higher spending and taxes that their husbands a year from now will be asking the legislature to defeat.

A revisionist historian, publishing a commentary on the ancient Roman republic, observed that its "red tape was the mother of freedom."

It is a pleasure to report that the Wisconsin state government is generously staffed with freedom lovers, by that test.

Probe Public Attitude To Bobbies

From The Victoria (Canada) Times

According to tradition, the London bobby is guide, philosopher and friend to the stranger in the great city, the soul of courtesy and rectitude and the impeccable champion of high character. That's the tradition.

The actuality seems to fall somewhat short in the opinion of the average Britisher these days. It has fallen so short that the British government has ordered a special commission to investigate the force to find out why the police and the public are too often at odds.

Certain relatively isolated, reprehensible incidents have placed the officers of the law in a bad light. But the general opinion seems to be that traffic congestion and the number of instances in which the man in blue and the person in the car irritate one another are the main causes of serious friction.

The matter boils down to a simple question in human relations: How do you go about loving the official who pinched you yesterday for overparking, missing a stop sign, creeping on a red light or violating any number of regulations which the law imposes on the driver?

As William Schwenck Gilbert once said, when constabulary duty's to be done, a policeman's lot is not a happy one. And it doesn't improve the car owner's temper either.

Ike Flies Home After South American Tour

senhower boarded his plane, waving and grinning. Eisenhower said goodbye in Spanish: "Hasta luego." He was up early. He gave a short talk to U.S. embassy personnel and their families at the embassy residence before boarding his helicopter for the trip to the Montevideo airport. He told them they, and all other Americans, are ambassadors of good will.

"If we can't make progress along this line," he said, "then I'm pretty pessimistic about this poor old world."

Outbreak at University

The city was quiet around the University of Montevideo, where anti-United States demonstrations marred the Uruguayans' otherwise friendly reception yesterday. A few policemen stood by. There was no sign of hostility at the airport. It was a windy day. The temperature was 68.

Frondizi met Eisenhower at the Buenos Aires airport. About 500 persons, including government officials, troops and some bystanders waiting to board commercial planes, looked on.

Walking up a long red carpet to his silver and orange jet, Eisenhower paused to say goodbye to Ambassador and Mrs. Willard L. Beaulac. "I hope you have a good trip home," Mrs. Beaulac said.

The president smiled broadly, shaking her hand and said "it has been very nice so far." From Puerto Rico tomorrow, he added, "You will see in the newspapers that we are playing a little golf."

Flight Plan May Change
Though the flight plan called for a refueling stop at Paramaribo, airport officials here said the plane may fly directly to Ramey Air Force base in Puerto Rico. They said the decision would be made aloft on the basis of winds and weather conditions.

The cheers of millions along the way through Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay kept Eisenhower smiling and in high spirits from the minute he reached South America on his good will mission 10 days ago.

Shrugging off the only hostile display that amounted to anything, here in Montevideo yesterday, he told Nardone that the jeers of leftist students did not bother him a bit.

The acrid fumes of tear gas fired by police at one group of demonstrators brought tears to Eisenhower's eyes, and spray from disciplinary fire hoses blew across the path of his open car, but he was not ruffled. The president coughed slightly for a moment. He sat down in his bubbletop car, wiped his eyes and within a minute jumped to his feet, again waving greetings to the enthusiastic crowds — estimated at 400,000 — who drowned out the two small groups of hecklers.

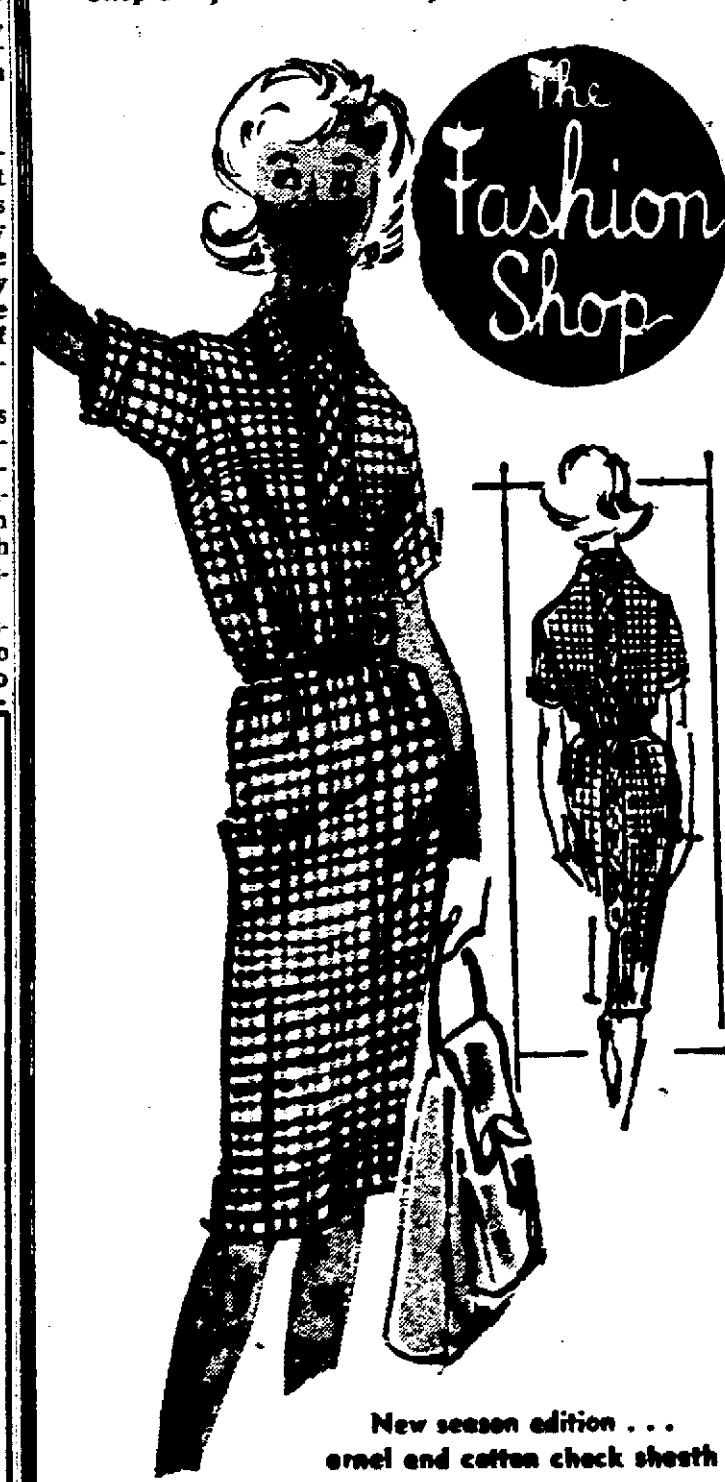

Seek More Advertising For Dairy Products

Madison — American Dairy association President Lyman D. McKee, Madison, said Wednesday state dairy men should support higher advertising expenditures to create a stronger consumer demand for dairy products.

"The best bargaining agent we could ever get," McKee told an opening convention session of the organization's Wisconsin chapter, "is a strong consumer demand for dairy products."

McKee said dairy promotion is part of the answer to the national farm problem and that a big demand for dairy products will come through increased advertising.

Sen. Johnson Studies Way to End Filibuster

the senate chamber from nearby cots and couches. For the most part they were fully dressed, although a few were without neckties.

They mustered a quorum in 31 minutes, and then Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) took over the southern speaking chore for the pre-breakfast pull.

Call for Quorum

Smathers served a relatively short stint until 8:45. His theme was that the civil rights bill is a possible vehicle for increasing registration is providing a home-grown solution for Negro voting rights in Florida.

A quorum call after Smathers' speech kept things quiet for 33 minutes and Sen. Johnson

Stennis (D-Miss) took over at 7:18.

By that time some of the senators on quorum call apparently were getting hardened to it — at any rate they averaged a bit more spruce and alert than they had on earlier roundups.

During part of Long's talk, Johnson could be observed in the chamber with the rough draft beginnings of a compromise bill. He mixed earnest conversation with Democratic civil rights supporters.

Studies Substitute

Some of them reported afterward Johnson had undertaken a drive to find a measure which can win the necessary two-thirds vote of the senate to limit debate and end the filibuster should that step be necessary.

These senators said Johnson emphasized he was exploring the prospects for bringing out a substitute measure centered around provisions for court-appointed referees to help guard Negro voting rights, and fixing penalties for hate bombings of schools and churches.

Inviting Democratic suggestions, Johnson was looking inmeet modern problems and to reflect the great growth of the church in recent years.

Previously the college of cardinals had been limited to 70 members for more than 350 years.

In making his latest cardin-

Dirksen meanwhile undertook separate explorations which carried over into a scheduled midday meeting of all 35 Republicans today.

"You can only go on like this so long," Dirksen told a reporter.

"If there is to be any change of pace or any change of policy," he added, "it should be decided by the whole group and not just be a leadership decision."

al selections, Pope John continued a practice he set earlier of elevating comparatively younger church officials to the college.

Archbishop Rugambwa is 47 and Archbishop Santos 51. Archbishop Alfrink is 50. Archbishops Doi and Lefebvre both 67, and the Most Revs. Traglia and Bacchi both 64.

The college now has 31 Italians and 47 prelates from other countries. After the new consistory, it will have 33 Italians and 52 non-Italians with the following representation: France, 8; the United States, 6; Spain 5; Germany, 4; Brazil, 3; Canada, Portugal, Argentina and Britain, 2 each; and one each from Belgium, Syria, Armenia, Australia, Ecuador, Uruguay, Mexico, Cuba, Hungary, China, India, Poland, Ireland, Austria, Japan, Philippines, Holland and Tanganyika.

Japanese Cardinal Surprise

Naming of a cardinal for the Philippines, whose population is almost solidly Catholic, and of the first native Negro cardinal in Africa, where the church has expanded enormously in recent years, did not come as a surprise.

But the naming of a Japanese cardinal was a surprise and injected new interest in the colorful ceremonies that will see the elevation of the princes of the church. Japan's Catholic population is small, and Tokyo, of which the new cardinal is archbishop, has only about 37,000 Catholics.

The nomination of a Japanese cardinal was considered by Vatican sources to indicate the importance that Pope John attaches to the church in the Far East.

Physician and Surgeon Found Shot to Death

Madison — Dr. J. S. Supernaw, a physician and surgeon, was found dead Wednesday of gunshot wounds. His body was found in his downtown office.

Coroner Michael Malloy said a .22 caliber pistol was found in Dr. Supernaw's right hand. He said six shots had been fired and three entered the side of Dr. Supernaw's head.

Badger School District Factions Air Feelings About Annexation

Taxes, Transportation, Sewage, Teaching Involved in Problem

BY BONNIE BARSTOW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A dispute which has been going on for several months between two factions in the Badger school district was openly—and at times heatedly—aired at the school Wednesday night.

The open meeting was called by the school board so residents of the district could discuss matters relating to a petition for attachment to the Appleton school district. The county school committee's hearing on the petition will be Tuesday.

"The big issue is transportation," said Robert Brown, Badger school board president. He pointed out that present Appleton policy is that the schools pay for the transportation of elementary school children if they live more than a mile from school; junior and senior high school students pay for their own transportation no matter how far they live from school. If Badger is attached to the Appleton schools, junior and senior high students will go to city schools.

Doubts It Would Change

Brown was doubtful the Appleton board of education would change this policy.

But Kenneth Spaay, chairman of the citizens' committee which circulated the petition for attachment, said that the Appleton board would listen to the requests of people from districts attached to the Appleton system.

Spaay said his committee had its start in the fall, when a group of citizens began "diving into goings on at the school."

The group petitioned for a male principal for the school but was "cut off short," said James R. Kimball, a member of the committee.

Loss of Contact

At Wednesday night's meeting, Brown charged that the citizens' committee brought up "assumed points. . . There can't be minorities coming in and bucking majorities."

Mrs. John Berg, a member of the committee, said the group lost contact with the school board in December.

The "rumor" is hurting both teachers and children, Brown said.

He said that complaints about the school should be brought up at the district's annual meeting. Members of the citizens' committee complained that the district's books were open only for a half hour before the annual meeting and that they couldn't tell much about them in that amount of time.

$17,000 Surplus

The district has a $17,000 surplus, Brown explained, because money was appropriated for an additional teacher and for a new sewage system. After the money was appropriated, it was learned that the extra teacher was not needed and that the present sewage system would last several years more.

The surplus, Brown said, will enable the district to lower taxes in 1960. The 1959 school tax is $26.43 per $1,000 assessed valuation in the Badger district. The school rate is $21.75 in Appleton. He estimated that 1960 rates would be about $22 in Badger and $22.50 in Appleton. In 1961, he added, the Badger district school tax probably would go back up to $28.

Brown said valuation in the district is going up so that there would be a greater tax base. Although Appleton's valuation also is increasing, Brown said the ratio of new valuation to old was greater in the suburban district.

Favors Attachment

Melvin Timmel said his taxes had increased $104 in two years. They will increase whether or not the district is attached to Appleton, he said. Although he admitted he formerly opposed annexation, he urged Wednesday that the district "get in as soon as we possibly can."

He said Appleton might annex the industrial area of the district, north of College avenue. If that happened, Timmel said, taxes would more than double in the residential section remaining.

"Eventually there will be total annexation whether we like it or not," Timmel predicted.

Spaay said the area might have to be annexed eventually because of sewage problems.

Teacher Requirements

Kimball listed physical education, music, language and kindergarten classes as advantages the city school system offered. "In 20 years we'd never get to that point," he said. Others at the meeting disputed the value of kindergarten.

Appleton public schools require teachers to have bachelor's degrees, a requirement praised by Mrs. Berg.

"Years ago" two years of normal school were enough for a teacher, one woman argued.

"But some day my child is going to pilot a jet," Mrs. Berg answered. "I just pilot my electric mixer."

Discipline Problem

The discipline problem would be eased by attachment to the Appleton district, Spaay said, because there would be a "younger group in the school."

Others argued that Appleton also has discipline problems.

Brown said there appeared to be no serious discipline problem at the Badger school. Citizens' committee members said improvement in the discipline situation in recent years was a result of having a man teacher in the school. They used this as an argument for having a man principal.

State law requires that Badger and other districts without high schools be attached to high school districts by July, 1962. Brown said that this law might be changed before the deadline date so the school would not have to be attached.

Oneidas to Decide On Extension of Law Firm Contract

Post-Crescent News Service

Oneida—A special meeting of the Oneida tribal council will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the hall of the Oneida Methodist church. Tribal Chairman Julius Danforth said it is important that the necessary quorum of 50 tribal members attend to act on business.

Up for discussion will be extension of the 10-year contract with the Chicago law firm of Aaron, Aaron, Schimberg and Hess. The present contract expires March 8.

The firm is representing the tribe before the Indian claims commission in Washington, D.C. The Oneidas are seeking $2.5 million in reimbursement for a large area of eastern Wisconsin taken from them by the U. S. government in 1832. The commission has found the land was unjustly taken from the Indians but has not ruled on the valuation of the tract as of 1832.

Unit to Make Mental Health Field Study

Organization of Commission Has Been Completed

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A citizens-legislative review commission for public services in the field of mental health and mental disease prevention has completed its organization.

The new state mental health advisory committee was created by the legislature a year ago after a 1957 legislative interim committee decided against proposals for the separation of mental health programs from the general public welfare administrations, state and local.

The committee concluded, however, that there was a need for a more vigorous coordination of present services and for the bridging of some of the gaps in facilities and programs that it found. The advisory committee was the result. It is required to make continuing studies in the field, and especially of the possibilities of mental disease prevention, for the guidance of the state legislature.

The commission is expected to maintain a close relation with the legislature as a result of the appointment of two leading legislators to its membership. They are Sen. Peter Carr of Janesville and Assemblyman Isaac Coggs of Milwaukee, chairmen, respectively, of the two standing committees on public welfare of the state legislature.

Dr. H. Kent Tenney of Madison is the chairman of the advisory committee. He is widely known as a former president of the Wisconsin State Medical society.

The commission's chief investigator will be Harry K. Spindler, former member of the state department of administration staff, who has been chosen as executive secretary.

Senate Postpones Action on Nomination Of James R. Durfee

Washington — The senate, tied up in a filibuster on civil rights, Tuesday postponed action on the nomination of James R. Durfee, chairman of the Wisconsin Public Service commission and a board, to be an associate judge of the U.S. Court of Claims.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has asked that he be permitted to speak on the nomination which has been approved by the senate judiciary committee.

Durfee is a former chairman of the Wisconsin Public Service commission and a native of Antigo, Wis.

Civil Rights Split Is Urban-Rural

Residential Segregation Acts As Buffer in Southern Cities

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

In congress the civil rights issue is being billed as the same old north-south battle. But in the south itself, the conflict seems to be changing into a struggle between two different parts of Dixie — the larger cities against the "black belt," the rural counties that have heavy Negro populations.

Proposals to protect negro voting rights stir little opposition in the major southern cities. Asked about the issue, most urban southerners shrug their shoulders or reply, "There's nothing to stop any Negro in this city from voting now."

In typical "black belt" counties, however, the common response is "We can't let all Negroes vote. Around here they outnumber the whites."

In east Texas one merchant told me, "I'd let them vote for president, but we're not going to have them elect a Negro sheriff, or judge, or mayor."

Demonstrations Reported

Near Barnesville, Ga., one farmer protested, "Most Negroes don't have sense to vote."

The widow of another Georgia farmer said, "You can go anywhere in this county and buy a Negro vote for a dollar."

In these rural counties the reports of Negro demonstrations, such as those taking place in some stores and restaurants, move some local people to say, "Around here they'd better keep their place."

Third of Series

Some persons swear, "No one can make me eat next to a nigger." Others say, "May be it will be like desegregating the buses. The older Negroes still go to the back of the buses. It's only the young ones who insist on sitting up front."

Contrast in School Views

The rural - urban cleavage emerges even more sharply in attitudes toward school desegregation. In most southern public schools in the county cities, my interviewing shows stand empty, while the white a reluctant but general readiness to accept a small degree of integration as "better than closing the schools."

But in three largely rural counties in Georgia, Texas and Virginia, three of every four persons interviewed declared, "I'd rather shut the schools down than let that Yankee court tell me what to do."

The contrast between these two Souths is etched out vividly in two Virginia communities — Norfolk and Prince Edward County — both of which have had their schools closed.

In Norfolk the predominant feeling is relief that the public schools are open again. An electrician's wife recalled, "The private schools cost too much and weren't good. Classes were held in church. The children had to sit on little kindergarten chairs. We all felt so disorganized."

Social Activities Cut
A 14-year-old girl who attends a mixed school said the "only thing we don't like is that we have had to cut down on social activities, like school dances. The Negro children just stay off by themselves. There's no trouble."

One 13-year-old girl remarked, "All this year I've seen only one white girl talk to a Negro girl."

In rural Prince Edward, by contrast, the atmosphere is one of almost-wartime tension and conformity. All the public schools in the county stand empty, while the white children attend private schools — and virtually everyone to whom I talked seemed determined to keep things so.

Disadvantages Kept Quiet
Asked how the private schools are working out, most people replied, "Better. We've had to cut all the frills, everything but the essentials. No time is being wasted."

One teacher, though, confessed, "There are lots of things about the private schools we don't like. But we keep quiet. This is a struggle of the black man against the white man. I have to stick with my own people."

Some people are troubled that the Negro children are not going to school at all. An offer to open a private school for Negroes was spurned.

Only One School
One important influence stiffening Prince Edward's resistance to the supreme court is the fact that there is only one white high school in Farmville, the county seat.

"With us, token integration isn't possible," protested a doctor's wife. "We have only one school district. If you open it, all the Negroes come in."

Many urban residential areas in the south are, of course, almost entirely free of Negroes. In nearly all southern cities integration plans call for admitting only a small number of Negroes to a few schools.

Would Move Out
Some Norfolk parents were asked, "What would you do if the school became nearly half white and half Negro?"

"If it ever went that far," was a typical reply, "we would just move out of the neighborhood and let the Negroes have the school."

This is what happened in Miami, when four Negroes were admitted to the Orchard Villa school. Many white residents moved out of the district. Others transferred their children to different schools. Orchard Villa today has become almost entirely Negro in its student body.

In most southern cities, in short, residential segregation cushions the impact of integration, but the black belt counties do not have such buffer zones.

Such differences are likely

KVS Schedules Driving Class

Registrations for 10-Week Course Underway at Office

Kaukauna — A new class in driver education will get underway March 23 at the Kaukauna School of Vocational and Adult Education for persons 16 years old or older.

Registrations for the class are now being accepted at the school office. The 10-week course includes seven 7 to 9 p.m. Monday sessions on the theory of driving, getting acquainted with the car, meaning of traffic laws and signs, city and highway driving, driving under hazardous conditions, care of the car and to aggravate the urban-rural struggle in the south, as the cities move toward some integration while the black belt counties try to hold the south to an unyielding line of resistance.

Neil Weyenberg Named King of KHS Junior Prom

Kaukauna — Neil Weyenberg was elected by his classmates to serve as king for the junior prom to be held in the high school gym May 6.

Weyenberg was named over four other boys named in preliminary voting. Other candidates were Robert Lambie, Theodore Blahnik, Dennis Pribe and David Foxgrover. An earlier election was held to select five candidates for the final election.

Theme for this year's prom will be "Bali Hail."

Dog Licenses Now At Police Station

Kaukauna — Dog licenses are now available at the police station and should be picked up by all dog owners within the next few weeks, according to Harold V. Engstrom, chief of police.

Law requires all dogs to have a license. The owner will be asked to furnish the breed, color, sex and name of the dog when applying for the license.

Children Playing With Matches Results in $500 Damage to Home

Little Chute — Youngsters playing with matches were blamed for a fire which caused an estimated $500 damage to an unfinished upstairs of a home owned by Joseph Horn Jr., North street, about 1:15 p.m. Wednesday, according to Les Sanders, fire chief.

The fire started in a box of paper and spread to the walls and ceiling of the upstairs portion of the home. Firemen used a water spray to extinguish the blaze and minimize water damage, according to the chief.

Requirements for Residency Told

BY MARY ELLEN DUCKLOW

There are thousands of Fox Cities and Outagamie county residents who are potential dwellers at Peabody Manor, resident home for the retired which the Appleton Visiting Nurse association proposes to build on the site of old Jefferson school. Who are they?

Tentative admission requirements specify that they shall be men or women, 65 years old or more, who are United States citizens and who will have lived in Outagamie county, Neenah or Menasha continuously for two years before they apply for admission.

Applicants must be ambulatory — able to get around and in reasonably good physical condition at the time they are admitted. They will be of sound mind and they can have no evidence of active communicable disease. They will have physical examinations and chest x-rays as well as statements from a home-appointed physician before they are admitted. They'll have an interview the services provided by the Manor.

When these requirements are met, and the new Manorite moves in, he or she—let's call her Mrs. Jones—will be able to bring with her things from home—furniture in good condition, family pictures, lamps—so that the warm memories of the past will be close and comfortably at hand. Mrs. Jones will find friends, bridge partners, contemporaries with whom she can reminisce, knit or gossip a little, with whom she can shop, go to church and learn, perhaps, new activities and skills.

Her own radio and TV, in her own room, can provide relaxation for quiet times. There'll also be television in lounge and solarium, too — shared laughter is important. Meals will be attractively served, well-planned, nutritious — designed for leisurely dining, rather than the catch-as-catch-can routime or lonely chop and canned peach half that too often is the refuge of the lonely diner.

The Peabody Manorite will live in the atmosphere of a family of contemporaries, but personal privacy will be just as important. It's not easy to maintain self-respect when you're in the way. But Mrs. Jones will find herself an integral part of the whole at Peabody Manor.

Entertaining Facilities

She'll entertain her friends from town, her children and family when she wishes. And when she visits them, it will be because she wants to and because they want her. Then there'll be the Manor, gracious and warm, to which she will go "home" when the visit is over.

When guests come to her, Mrs. Jones will brew them tea, serve them cakes from the pleasant little kitchenette off the solarium on her floor. Her own powder room, a close-by bathing room, a ramp for easy access to the building, pleasantly landscaped grounds to watch from her window, a nearby quiet residential neighborhood—this will be home.

Infirmary in Building

A permanent staff of about 10 will see to Mrs. Jones' needs and those of her friends—a resident head, a housekeeper, cook, nurse, maids, secretary - bookkeeper, maintenance man and waitresses plus part - time help.

When she has a cold, or a touch of "grippe," there'll be a comfortable bed in the infirmary and competent, professional and friendly care. A minor illness at Peabody Manor will be just that. Minor.

Since there'll be a part-time director of recreation and occupational therapy chances are Mrs. Jones will have plenty of incentive to get out of the infirmary in a

Lenten Season's A Challenge to Creative Cooks

BY LILLIAN MACKESY

Post-Crescent Food Editor

Lenten meals can be a chore or a challenge . . . the creative cook will accept meatless days as a challenge to her ability and ingenuity.

The first step in planning a main dish is the selection of a suitable substitute for meat. Here the principal requirement is high protein content to supply all the nutrition a family needs . . . fish, eggs, milk and cheese apply here . . . other choices may be used if supplemented with one or a combination of basic protein foods.

The next step is to add ingredients to enhance the flavor of the basics to make appetizing dishes . . . it's far better to hear a clamor for seconds than the wailing cry, "Not that again!"

With a thought to variety, we present six different recipes . . . all outstanding yet none too rare for the budget. There's spaghetti and mushrooms served in casserole with Gouda cheese with its nut-like flavor . . . there's the recipe for broiled salmon steaks topped with fresh asparagus spears and a mushroom sauce . . . a creamy fish dish . . . eggs and rice done up in French style . . . Butterfly shrimp that's a southern specialty and delicious burgers adapted to lenten fare with tuna and pickles.

Some of these recipes are quick-as-a-wink variety, others a bit fussier to prepare . . . but each and every one is guaranteed to be a challenge to the appetite as well as fun for the cook.

Gouda Spaghetti Casserole
6 tablespoons butter
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 1/2 cups milk
1 Gouda cheese
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
7 ounces packaged spaghetti

1 cup chopped pimiento
1 cup fine cereal crumbs
Melt two tablespoons butter; add onion and celery; cook slowly until vegetables cooked but not brown. Add flour, salt, celery salt and paprika; blend well. Add Worcestershire sauce and milk at one time. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Shred half the Gouda cheese and stir into hot sauce. Sauté mushrooms in two tablespoons butter. Cook spaghetti in briskly boiling, salted water, taking care not to overcook. Blanch in cold water if desired to wash off excess starch.

Combine sauce, mushrooms and cooked spaghetti and, chopped pimiento in baking dish. Melt remaining butter and mix with cereal crumbs. Sprinkle around edge of casserole. Bake in 350-degree oven about 20 minutes, until bubbly around edges.

The rest of the Gouda may be cut into wedges. Place in center of the casserole. Return casserole to oven to soften the cheese wedges.

Creamy Fish Roll-Ups
1 pound fish fillets, frozen or fresh
1 cup butter

A Tempting Tuna Sandwich served hot with a mushroom sauce is an excellent idea for lunch or supper. Sweet gherkin pickles are a fitting accompaniment as are crisp potato sticks.

juice of 1 lemon
salt and pepper
powdered thyme
4 tomatoes
1 medium onion, sliced
1 stalk celery, chopped
1 tablespoon soft butter blended with one tablespoon flour
1 cup heavy cream
Fillets of cod, haddock, ocean perch or other white-meated fish may be used for this dish. If frozen fillets are used, let thaw at room temperature. Slice fillets, if needed, to make pieces thin enough to roll.

Place one-fourth cup butter in baking dish; set in 375-degree oven to melt. Sprinkle fish with lemon juice, salt and pepper, and then tiny sprinkle of thyme. Roll each fillet.

Peel tomatoes and cut off slice at each end. Separate

The Recipe for Creamy Fish Roll-Ups is a delicious example of a meal-in-a-dish that combines fish with tomatoes. White-meated fillets such as cod, haddock, ocean perch may be used for this lenten fare.

If Shrimp Is a Family favorite, try Butterfly Shrimp southern style. This dish has the advantage of being served plain or fancy. Garnish the platter of golden brown shrimp with parsley sprigs, raw carrot swirls or celery curls for variation. Serve it with mashed potatoes, French fried onion rings, stewed tomatoes or creamed spinach.

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

The Rev. David Koehne officiated at the double ring ceremony at 10 a. m. Saturday at St. Mary Catholic church, Kaukauna, uniting Miss Charlotte Fleischman and Gordon Kain, Jr., 515 1/2 E. Lincoln street.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fleischman, 430 Whitney street, Kaukauna, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kain, Sr., 1314 N. Wayne street.

Miss Ceil Fleischman was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Norman Bohem, Jr., Green Bay, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Norman Bohem, Jr., served as best man and Michael LeFevre, Green Bay, cousin of the bride, was groomsmen. Glenn LeFevre, Green Bay, ushered.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the Hotel Appleton, which also was the setting for the supper, reception and dance.

The newlyweds recently re-

Miss DeBaufer Wed Monday In Whitewater

Miss Anne DeBaufer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeBaufer, Whitewater, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. DeBaufer, former Appleton residents, was married Monday at St. Patrick Catholic church, Whitewater, to Donald Arthur Carlson, Seattle, Wash.

The former Miss DeBaufer attended the University of Hawaii. Her husband is serving in the navy.

Mrs. C. A. Henderson, 829 E. Hancock street, attended the wedding.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. George Theiss, 301 W. Prospect avenue, returned Monday from Toledo, Ohio, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith. Mrs. Smith is a former Appleton resident. The Theisses were also guests of Gov. and Mrs. Michael D. Salle in Columbus.

Spaghetti and Cheese Take on elegant airs when the fine strands of spaghetti are combined in a creamy sauce that's richly flavored with shredded Gouda. For extra savor, the casserole is given a crunchy touch of buttery crushed cereal and a bright topping of soft-ened cheese wedges.

Lenten Foods Offer Challenge to Cooks

1 tablespoon lemon juice
paprika

Wash asparagus. Break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Leave stalks whole and cook, covered, in one inch boiling, salted water until fork pierces stalks easily.

Place undiluted soup in saucepan. Add milk and heat thoroughly. Sauté mushrooms in tablespoon butter and add to sauce.

Broil salmon steaks on both sides, brushing with mixture of fourth-cup butter, basil and lemon juice. Garnish with paprika. Serve immediately with hot asparagus and mushroom sauce.

Butterfly Shrimp Southern Style

2 pounds fresh or frozen shrimp
1 cup flour, sifted
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
2/3 cup water
1 cup lemon juice
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon frying oil oil for deep frying

Clean shrimp, leaving tails attached. Slit from back. Lay flat and lightly criss-cross with knife. Then flatten shrimp with broad side of knife.

Sift flour, salt, baking powder together in bowl. Stir in water and lemon juice. Blend in tablespoon oil and egg.

Heat enough cooking oil in saucepan for deep frying. Oil is ready when batter rises to top when dropped into it. Make a lacy background on oil by dipping fingers in batter and sprinkling in oil several times. Then dip shrimp in batter; lay carefully on lacy batter in oil. Sprinkle more batter on shrimp. Cook

Eggs de Jonghe

2 cups cooked rice
1 can mushroom soup
1 can water
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup butter, melted
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon ground pepper
8 hard-boiled eggs

Combine rice, soup, water; heat. Place in four individual casseroles. Combine crumbs with melted butter and seasonings. Put a layer over the rice-soup combination. Slice eggs, keeping each one whole by cutting only two-thirds down. Place two eggs in each dish, pressing into the rice. Top with remaining crumbs. Cover and bake in 450-degree oven for 15 minutes. It is important to use a hot oven for this dish.

Asparagus California

2 pounds fresh asparagus
1 can mushroom soup
1 cup milk
4 ounces canned mushrooms drained
1 tablespoon butter
4 salmon steaks
1/2 cup butter
1 teaspoon basil

Never Scoff At Low Card In Long Suit

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't despise the low cards of a long suit. When the suit has been set up even a very low card may win a trick and thus provide an entry.

Try to make the slam in this hand. Six clubs would, of course, be very easy. Six no-trump takes some management.

West opens the deuce of hearts, and East plays the jack on dummy's 10. You win with the king of hearts and plan to develop dummy's long diamonds.

How often must you get to dummy to run the diamonds? You must finesse twice through East's king, and you must then get back to dummy.

my to cash the remaining diamonds. Hence you must get to dummy three times.

Since the only possible entries are in clubs you must manage the clubs in such a way as to win three of the four club tricks in dummy. Can you do it?

Start With Ace

Start with the ace of clubs. Next, lead the ten of clubs to dummy's jack. You can afford this waste because you have five high clubs and only four club tricks. When both opponents follow suit on the second round of clubs you know that the suit will break favorably.

Having reached dummy with the jack of clubs, you return a diamond and finesse the queen.

The next step is to lead the queen of clubs and overtake with dummy's king. This puts you in dummy for a second diamond finesse. The finesse works, and you lead out the ace of diamonds to clear the suit.

Now you must get back to dummy for the last two diamonds. You lead the three of clubs to dummy's four! Both are very low cards, but dummy's four is an entry.

You cash dummy's 10 and nine of diamonds, making your slam with an overtrick.

Daily Question

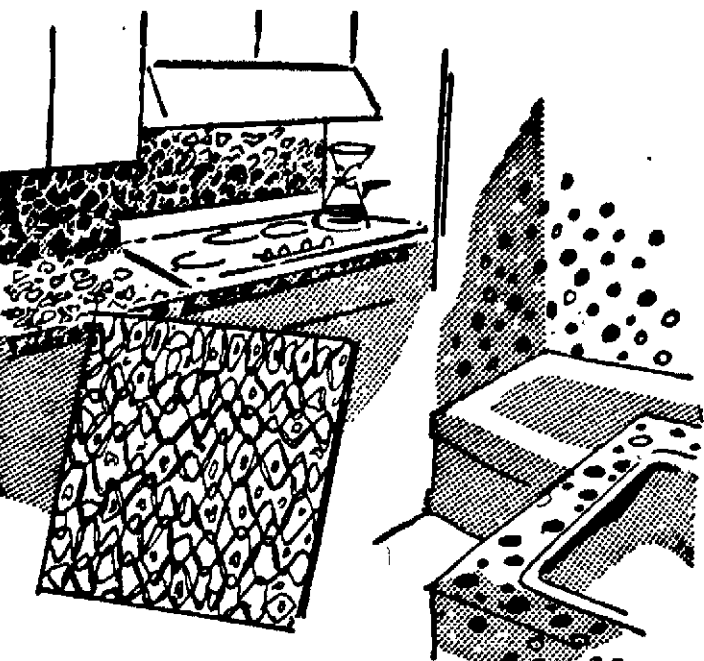

Partner opens with three NT, and the next player passes. You hold: S-9 8 5 4, H-A J 9 3, D-K 8 7, C-9 8. What do you say?

Answer: Bid six notrump or four clubs. Partner's bid shows 25 to 27 points, and your own 8 points should be enough for a slam. Use the response of four clubs with an expert partner to ask him about his major suits. It is the same as the familiar Stayman convention, except that it takes place at a higher bidding level.

Practical Problem Solver for Kitchens, Bathrooms

A big problem in kitchen and bathroom planning is how to make so many kinds of surfaces belong together. The upper surfaces of walls are so often different from lower walls, cabinets change material for their counter tops, and there are appliances or fixtures, window treatments, floors. Matching many of these — to use few colors instead of a jumble of many — helps to smooth the plan, and there's another way. Many smart kitchens and bathrooms repeat patterned surfacings, use the hardy plastic that covers counter tops elsewhere in the room.

In the kitchen, the counter top covering goes up the wall from lower cabinets and table top range to hanging cabinets, to become practical splashboard. In the bathroom, the plastic covers the entire cabinet for the counter style lavatory, surfaces the wall above it and the wall surrounding the tub. New patterns are designed with wider decorative use in mind, the three sketched from nineteen new Formica designs and colors. One stand-out resembles stones on sand, one is an all-over tracery that has a softer effect than a geometric and the other is a sprinkling of coin dots.

New Labeling Act Provides Guide

BY GINNIE ERDMANN
Post-Crescent News Service

Mr. and Mrs. Shopper: the new Textile Fiber Products Identification act goes into effect today. And what does this mean to you?

The new law is a major step towards providing precise information on the fiber content of purchased apparel, and will make it easier for you, the consumer, to intelligently select various garments and household items since their fiber content will be clearly labeled.

These facts were forwarded last week by J. B. Goldberg of New York, leading consultant to the textile and allied industries who was a featured speaker at the Press Previews of the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, held in connection with the 42nd annual convention of the National association of Retail Clothiers and Furriers at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles.

The new Textile Fiber Products Identification act will aid the consumer, retailer, manufacturer, mill and fiber producer in understanding the functional qualities of fibers as utilized in end products.

Law Demands Truth

The new law demands truth in labeling. All articles of wearing apparel, with few exceptions, must be labeled to show the exact percentage of each fiber present, listed in order of predominance by weight. Generic names must be used in association with a fiber trademark at least once in making the required disclosure.

For instance, a label which reads "The fabric in this garment is dacron, rayon and cotton" will not be acceptable after today. The new tags must read like this: "This Wondercare wash-n-wear suit is 83 per cent cotton, 17 per cent nylon, sanforized" — or, "100 per cent Acrilan acrylic in a washable jersey by Beaunit."

Goldberg, who is a trustee of the Textile Research Institute of Princeton, N.J., and is one of the few Americans who is a Fellow of the British Textile Institute, told his audience that "two articles with identical fiber compositions can vary greatly in quality and performance. One has to rely to a large part on the integrity of the retailer and manufacturer."

Young Adults Plan Supper

Kenneth Sager, head of the social science department at Appleton High school, will speak on "The Problems of Modern Youth" at a Sunday meeting of the Young Adults Fellowship group of Zion Lutheran church.

Members will meet at 5:30 p.m. for a supper, to be followed by Sager's speech. Recreation will be held after the talk.

Guests from the Oshkosh group will attend.

Your home can be as distinctive as your own personality. Let our "Bill Ding" advisors help you design a home "custom-made" for your own individual requirements.

Here's all you have to do: Just sit down with your family and make a list of everything you want in your new home. First decide the general outside appearance — ranch or split-level, modern or traditional. Then list the rooms you'll need, including bedrooms, bath, den, game room, nursery, etc. And then say special features you'd like — an extra-large kitchen, a wood-paneled living room, a library with floor-to-ceiling bookshelves? Use your imagination.

The last step is the easiest. Bring your list to us next time you're in the neighborhood. We'll be happy to help you work out the plans, suggest new ideas, ways to get the most for your money and recommend the most economical means of financing. Actor Hayden Plans Marriage

New York — Actor Sterling Hayden's latest bride-to-be can't recall ever seeing him in motion pictures.

"But I must have, as a girl," said Mrs. Catherine McConnell, an attractive 28-year-old divorcee. "He certainly looked familiar when I met him here in New York."

That meeting, about three weeks ago, culminated in their wedding announcement Wednesday.

Mrs. McConnell, a blue-eyed brunette, is the former Catherine Ann Devine of New York City. Her father, James J. Devine, was co-publisher of the Clarksburg, W.Va. Telegram and later a newspaper publishers' representative here.

Her 8-year marriage to Neil McConnell, an investment broker here, ended in 1958 in divorce. She has custody of their son Scott, 8.

Hayden formerly was married to actress Madeleine Carroll and Betty Ann de Noon, the mother of his four children. Both marriages ended in divorce. Hayden's children—in his custody—range from 6 to 10.

The actor, a controversial Hollywood figure over the years, got in trouble last year when he took his children on a voyage to Tahiti in defiance of a court order obtained by his second wife. A judge later let him off with a mild reprimand and a $500 fine.

Your Problems

Ann Advises Man Hater to See Woman Doctor (Head Type)

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: What's the matter with the men in this world? I'm married to an old geezer whose eyes practically fall out of his head when a young girl passes. I can't keep a maid in the house because he got smart. Ann Landers girl who worked for us. We've had to move twice because he became too friendly with women neighbors.

I used to think it was just him but now I've decided all men are this way. Last week I had to see a lawyer about property problems. He made a pass at me. When I told him off he said I was "imagining things." Even the delivery boys and the electrician in this building have made improper advances.

I'm very good-looking for my age but I never give anyone encouragement. Don't tell me to see a doctor. I don't trust doctors either. — Man Hater

DEAR ANN: I've been going with a fellow for five years. There are many good reasons why we can't marry for a while but I won't go into them here. We exchange presents at Christmas and on birthdays. I'd say he spends between $20 and $30 on me. For the last three years I've asked him what he would like and he says, "Give me the money and I'll buy what I want." So, I've been giving him $25 in cash every Christmas, and again on his birthday. So far I've never known him to buy anything with the money. I think he just saves it. His birthday is coming up again next month. What shall I do? — Gwen

Dear Gwen: Don't ask questions and you won't get answers. Buy him what you think he'd like and don't let him make a commercial event out of occasions which should have sentiment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your recent advice entitled "Don't be a Pal to your Son" hit us at a very bad time. I'm the executive director of a well-known national organization. Your advice appeared on the opening day of our national drive to encourage a better relationship between fathers and sons. The slogan for our campaign is "Pals Forever." Needless to say, you've unwittingly dealt us a sharp blow.

I'm sure you'll agree a father can be a pal as well as a good disciplinarian. We are trying to encourage fathers to spend more time with their sons. The modern Dad seems to be "too busy."

Will you please help us by pointing out the difference between being a companion and letting a boy walk all over his dad? Thank you. — No Name Please

Dear No Name: Unfortunately this is a matter of semantics. If I had been asked for a slogan I would have suggested "Friends Forever." The word pal suggests a "buddy - buddy tie-up which puts pa right down there at the 11-year-old level.

I'm all for fathers spending time with their sons and have repeatedly said so in this space but it should be at a good level, and not a pals-walsy arrangement. The dad who tries to be a "chum" is like the boss who dances and drinks all evening with his secretary at the office party then expects her to say "Yes Sir" on Monday morning.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright, 1960)

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Little Lovelies

How old should a little girl be before she is encouraged to take an interest in her appearance? That's a question many mothers ask.

The answer is: just as soon as she can look in the mirror. Little girls love to look nice—at least, some of the time.

The place to start a training program is with good grooming habits. At a very tender age, a little girl can learn the value of daily baths and regular shampoos, of clothes fresh from the laundry.

In fact, she will be quick to grasp the idea that clean hair is shining hair, that clean face is a pretty face; that no matter what color they are, dirty socks aren't pretty.

She will also come to know that when she is clean and neat, she feels better and looks better to other people.

As a result, she will begin to take interest and pride in her appearance. And that reaction is all to the good. It helps establish a habit of cleanliness and neatness that will serve her ladyship's attractiveness all through her life.

Still, some mothers hesitate to foster pride in appearance. They are afraid they might make their little ones prissy and vain. But how could that be? It is not prissy to be clean, nor vain to be neat. On the contrary, it is a feminine prerogative and duty—at every age.

If housework saps your energies, looks and nerves, send for my booklet, "Beauty of Housework." It explains how to keep home and self sparkling with time to spare. Also included are an effort-saving work plan, shortcuts in housekeeping, and advice on how to give yourself a beauty treatment while engaged in your duties. For your copy, write me in care of your newspaper, enclosing 20 cents in coin and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1960)

Nancy Sinatra Engaged to Tommy Sands

Hollywood — Frank Sinatra's daughter, Nancy, is engaged to singer Tommy Sands.

Her mother, Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, announced the engagement Wednesday. She said no date has been set, but that Sands, 22, has bought a ring, and will give it to 19-year-old Nancy as soon as she returns from New York.

Sands has been ordered to take a physical examination for military service. Mrs. Sinatra said the couple hasn't decided whether they will be married before he goes into service or after he has finished military duties.

Eugene Istomin, pianist, is the first Artist series guest, who will appear March 17 at 8:15 p. m. in the Memorial chapel. Then the Camera Concert, a 14-piece chamber orchestra, is scheduled for the same time and place on March 29.

The Trio di Bolzano is the next Chamber Music series concert in connection with the Music-Drama Festival year celebration. Their program will be at 8:15 p. m. Monday in Harper hall. An added attraction the same week is the Curtis Quartet from Philadelphia, scheduled for 8:15 p. m. Mar. 11, in the Memorial chapel.

Symphony Concert
At 4 p. m. Mar. 13, in Harper hall, Kenneth Byler of the Lawrence conservatory will direct the Little Symphony in its annual concert. Following the same evening at 8:15 p. m. in the Memorial chapel will be the Knox college choir from Galesburg, Ill. The Little Symphony is also performing at a convocation at 11 a. m. Mar. 10 in the Memorial chapel.

Members of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's music fraternity, are sponsoring a benefit concert by pianist Joseph Running at 8:15 p. m. Mar. 21 in Harper hall.

Two conservatory students will be presenting their senior recitals during the month. They are Kay Mueller, voice major from Mayville, whose program is set for Mar. 20 at 4 p. m. in Harper hall; and organist Joan Berger, Sheboygan, who will give her concert at 4 p. m. Mar. 27 in the Memorial chapel.

General student recitals are set for 3:30 p. m. Mar. 11, 18, and 25 and for 8:15 p. m. Mar. 24, all in Harper hall.

Visiting speakers on the campus will include Garfield Todd, former prime minister of Southern Rhodesia, who spoke at convocation at 11 a. m. today in the Memorial chapel; Dr. Jerzy Modelski, guest of the International club who will discuss "Sino-Soviet Relations" at 7:30 p. m. today in the Worcester art center; and Walter Harrelson, dean of the divinity school of the University of Chicago, who will address the Freshman Studies classes on the book of "Job" at 11 a. m. Mar. 15 in Stansbury theater.

Lecture Series
Another in the current Phi Beta Kappa lecture series will be given at 8 p. m. Mar. 15 in the Worcester art center by Miss Elizabeth Wright of the religion department. Her topic is "Contemporary Thinking About God as Creator."

A program by Orchestras, the college's modern dance club, will be presented at 8 p. m. Mar. 18 in Stansbury theater.

Film classics this month are offering "On the Waterfront" (American) on Sunday; the German film "Threepenny Opera" on Mar. 13; and the Greek film "The Bed of Grass" on Mar. 20, all to be shown at 1:30 and 7:30 p. m. in Stansbury theater.

On exhibit at the Worcester art center during the month will be a Wisconsin Designer Craftsman display and paintings by Appleton artist Olga Bober.

Second Bake Sale Planned Sunday

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: A young girl from out of town whose aunt I have known since childhood, is going to college in this city. My own daughter also goes to this same college and they have become good friends. The girl in question lives at the sorority house. I invited her to have Sunday dinner with us whenever she would like to come. Every time she comes, however, she brings something for me—either a box of candy or some flowers or some small present. This embarrasses me very much as I don't want her to spend the little money she has on buying presents for me. But how can I tell her not to do this without seeming unappreciative. I know she appreciates my having her to dinner and I suppose she feels she should do something to repay my hospitality. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully put an end to this.

Answer: You might tell her that she gives you so much pleasure by coming to dinner that you already feel in debt to her, and please not to add to it by bringing presents to you.

Waving to Friends
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to wave a greeting to a friend who is seated at another table in a restaurant? I did this the other day and my mother said that it was not good manners to wave. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: You should wait until you catch a friend's eye and then smile your greeting. You may also make a slight gesture with your hand, but to wave your whole arm is not good manners.

Business Acquaintances
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I own and operate a store. When a salesman or other businessmen come into the store whom I do not know my husband usually introduces them to me. I would like to know if I should offer my hand on this occasion?

Answer: Not necessarily unless they are customers your husband knows well. But in any case, it would be courteous on your part to do so.

Mrs. Post offers readers' leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflets E-4, entitled, "Wedding Expenses," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Designer Specializes in Outsize Bathing Suits

BY DOROTHY ROE
Any woman can look presentable in a bathing suit, no matter how big she is, says Mabel Sheldrick, who designs swimwear for ladies size 36 to 52.

Miss Sheldrick has been specializing in making larger women look smaller for many years, so she knows whereof she speaks. Her advice to outsize bathing beauties: "Be sure to try on the swimsuit before you buy it, and for goodness' sake get it big enough. If you try to squeeze into a suit that's too small, it only makes you look bigger."

Avoid Big Prints
"Avoid light fabrics and big prints. Don't choose a bare-midriff suit, or one that is too brief in the legs. If you have a big bust, choose a suit with a higher neckline."

"Be sure your swimsuit has a built-in bra of heavy perforated fabric, boned for firm support. It also should have a built-up neckline and wide shoulder straps."

"If you have big hips, a suit with a flared skirt probably is your best bet, but the boy-leg suit also can be flattering, if the legs are cut long enough to conceal the heavy part of the thigh. About three inches above the knee is short enough."

"Dark colors, such as navy or black, tend to make you look smaller and muted prints also are flattering."

Miss Sheldrick, a native New Yorker, started out designing dresses for large women, and then graduated to bathing suits. She has taken to heart the plight of the fat girl who is embarrassed about getting in the swim, because of her size. Says she: "If a woman can wear a signer. "Size 30 doesn't mean age 30. There are many big teenagers, who want bright colors and young styling. Their suits have the same construction as the others, in gayer fabrics and colors."

Scouts Work On Folk Dance

New London—Members of Girl Scout Troop 161 are working on a folk dance to be presented during the folk festival in May at Iola.

The girls also are working on their requirements for the second class rank and had Mrs. Robert Stewart, a native of England, as a guest at a recent meeting. Mrs. Stewart explained life in England as an observance of international month.

The troop also had a Valentine party at the home of Susan Ritchie. They were taught how to sew on buttons for the homemaker badge requirements.

Next meeting will be March 10 at the First Congregational church parlors. Mrs. Harry Wright is the leader and Mrs. Howard Curlier and Mrs. Walter Schlise, assistant leader.

Lawrence Actors Stage Stately Chinese Parable

Designer Takes Reins When Director Collapses Before End of Rehearsals

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

In stately measure Wednesday night the Lawrence college theater paraded an elegant production of Bertolt Brecht's "The Good Woman of Setzuan" at the Stansbury theater in the Music and Drama center. The stand will end Saturday.

On stage the production was an example of fine collegiate theater. Backstage it was a demonstration of the aged-old tradition of all kinds of theater — the show must go on. Three days before the opening curtain F. Theodore Cloak, the director, was hospitalized with a serious ulcer attack and Joseph Hopfensperger, the designer — technician, stepped into Cloak's shoes to put the final touches to all parts of the production.

A hesitant last act on opening night was the only evidence of the emergency.

Large Undertaking

Brecht's "parable" is a piece of great magnitude. There are 29 in the cast, clothed in striking costumes and appearing in many shifting scenes, an ambitious undertaking.

Despite the large cast, the show was a tour de force for Sharon Heald in the title role, which in effect really is two roles. Brecht gave his leading lady very little time off stage.

The argument of the fable has three gods on earth seeking one good person so they could have a reason for letting the world continue to exist. At Setzuan in China they find the village prostitute is that good woman when only she will give them lodging. Writing in the depression-ridden Germany of the early '30s, Brecht contends that society makes it impossible for the poor to be good and the gods stake the good woman to a chance to live without want.

However, her goodness and compassion for the need about her — regardless of the vagrant character of the needy — causes her to share her patrimony until it is almost gone. Then she impersonates a fictitious male cousin of shrewd and ruthless business sense who saves and multiplies her money but alienates her friends.

Double Role

Hiss Heald handled the double role with a poise and polish that set her apart from the rest of the cast and held the show together. She was winsome, tender and feminine as the woman and her carriage and deportment as the cousin made the mustached mask superfluous.

In something of narrator's role is Patrick Sheehy. He set the tone of the piece with his lyrical reading and assisted Miss Heald in giving strength to the performance.

Kenneth Holehouse displayed physical grace and a fine sense of humor as a wealthy barber seeking to buy the woman for a wife and Julie Hutchison was a hardheaded landlady in tone, timing and gesture. John Buchholz turned in a convincing job as a straightforward policeman.

Contrasting Gods

Landy Lawrence Bouquet, squat Kay Gainacopoulos and medium-sized Daryl Riley contrasted each other well as the three gods whose ascent singing into heaven on a cloud was one of the technically "high" points of the evening. The slum setting was conducive to a roll of character parts of which Judith Shattuck, Gerald Swanson, Judith Speer, Edith Enthot, Frank Backus and Roger Longrie stood out.

Marty Mathers as a sharp-tongued friend provided fine skeptical comedy relief and Beverly Baldwin contributed a good reading of a doting mother.

The love interest and one of the main obstacles for the good woman to continue to be good is a wayward dreamer played by Meredith Watts in perhaps more than necessary "harley" style. His conversational diction and projection and hurried reading jarred with the tone of the show but added to the distaste for his role.

Myriad Scenes

The big cast was moved and grouped in small and large ensembles tastefully in the expected Cloak tradition. Hopfensperger accomplished something of a feat in dressing the myriad scenes in imaginative hangings and set pieces.

The most popular setting was a wood scene scrim through which the gods appeared in the narrator's dreams thanks to the accomplished lighting of Miss Speer.

Opening night is always the high point of the many hours of fevered preparations, and, despite orders to rest, Cloak lying in his hospital bed must have spent a frustrating night unable to see the flowering of his plans. He can rest easy now, for despite its many off-beat facets "The Good Woman of Setzuan" can go down in the record books as another achievement worthy of much more support than the handful of discriminating playgoers present Wednesday.

Activities of Servicemen

Eight Participate in Training Exercise

Eight Fox Cities servicemen participated in Seventh Army "Operation Winter Shield" Feb. 1 to 7 in the Grafenwohr Hohenfels training area of southern Germany.

Participating were:

Pulaski Rail In Use Again

10 Empty Tanks, Pulpwood Cleared From Spill Site

Post-Crescent News Service

Pulaski — Railroad traffic proceeded normally through Pulaski today after an interruption caused by a derailment early Wednesday.

Twenty cars of a south-bound Chicago and North Western train of 113 freight cars jumped the track a mile south of Pulaski. Eighteen of the 20 cars were empty tanks. Two were gondolas carrying pulpwood flooring and paper products.

Much of the pulpwood, bound for Green Bay mills, was scattered along the right of way. A caterpillar tractor from the army reserve training center at Green Bay assisted railroad crews in picking up the wood.

Chicago and north western officials said the salvaged pulpwood probably would be sold after conferring with insurance adjusters.

The derailment resulted when the brake rigging gave way on a car about midway along the train. No one was injured. Railroad passengers were routed around the area by bus until the damaged rails were replaced Wednesday night.

Words for Lent

Light for Dark Places

BY CHARLES M. CROWE

"The entrance of Thy words giveth light."
Psalms 119:130

In the Dome of Discovery in England's Festival of Britain in 1952, three objects were displayed together that had belonged to David Livingstone. One was a travel-stained semi-military cap of the type often worn in the nineteenth century. Another was an old-fashioned silver hand compass. The third was a small pocket Bible which showed evidence of much use. These three mementos of the great missionary were on exhibit along with those of England's other great explorers.

Many of these adventurers wore the same kind of cap. All of them used the same sort of compass. It was the Bible that distinguished Livingstone from all the others. With the compass Livingstone charted Africa's rivers and plains. With the Bible he brought the first message of Christian hope and faith to those who lived in fear and superstition.

It's a far cry from Livingstone's world to ours. The capname, Amen.

is now a space helmet; the compass an electronic beam. But the Bible still has the same distinctive place in the hearts of men. It brings light to hearts shadowed by sin and cynicism. It illuminates lives dark with anxiety. It lifts the lamp of divine hope to all who live in despair.

Read: Psalm 119: 129-136.

PRAYER: O Eternal God, may the light of thy truth and love find entrance in our minds and hearts this day. In Christ's name, Amen.

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERN

S-428

Urban or suburban, according to fabric, this slim lined model is by Lachasse of London. The V-shaped plunging neckline is collared with a facing of contrast color or texture, and matched in the inserted vestee. The skirt front repeats the line with a stitched-in panel, also in the shape of a V. Back detail is centered in the gently bloused bodice effected by an inverted pleat. Try shantung, sharkskin, pique, linen, rayon or sheer wool. From this size chart select the one size best for you. Pattern measurements are comparable to ready-to-wear.

Indians Seek to Alter Public's View of Them

Lebanon Native, Shakespearean Actor,
Now Redman Prototype, Hired to Help

BY JINGO

There is very little in the human comedy that has not been subjected to kindly analysis on the American stage—in all of its forms. Even homicidal children and depraved criminals have been glossed over as "victims of society" and — on the boards or screen — pardoned in part for their actions.

However, one segment seems to have been missed in these think pieces. That's the Indian. With very few exceptions he has remained a stereotype founded in the time when all "good" Indians were dead Indians.

Now the Indians themselves are taking a hand in trying to correct this misconception. A group of Indians has financed a documentary film, "The American Indian," to make sure their story gets on the record.

As narrator they have hired one of the most famous "Indians" of the day, Michael Ansara, the native of Lebanon with a career as a Shakespearean actor in his credits who portrays Cochise and an Apache deputy U. S. marshal on television.

Another group of Indians, the Pima-Maricopa tribe, is taking even more direct action to rectify what it believes is an insult to a dead brother and to themselves.

The tribe is carrying a protest of the forthcoming NBC play, "The Ira Hayes Story," to Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton and is seeking a chance to testify before the congressional committee investigating the radio-television industry.

Ira Hayes was one of the Marines who raised the flag on Mt. Suribachi in Iwo Jima during World War II. In January, 1955, he was found dead of exposure and too much alcohol on the Gila river Pima-Maricopa reservation.

The tribe feels the show will be about "just another drunken Indian," but NBC says it will attempt to show Ira as a victim of society and may change people's minds about him.

The assistant commissioner in the Bureau of Indian Affairs also opposes showing the play. If NBC gets around these censors, the play will be aired on Channel 5 on March 27.

Last Sunday CBS aired another find by the incredible film detective Isaac Kleiner when it cut into "The Twentieth Century" show a scene of Mrs. Alfred Dreysf leaving her husband's trial with Emilie Zola. Kleiner's unique work results in real whodunit activities and should make a good show of its own.

The CBS radio network broadcast from the Metropolitan opera this Saturday will be the revival of Wagner's "The Flying Dutchman."

'Flying Nun' Will Speak at First Red Cross Talk

A talk by Sister Mary Aquinas, the "flying nun," and a skit by members of Attic theater will highlight a kick-off meeting for Red Cross rural and residential solicitors at 8 p. m. today at Wilson Junior High school.

Sister Aquinas, supervisor of the Green Bay diocese department of education, will talk on her experiences with the Red Cross.

The Attic theater will present a skit on how not to conduct door to door solicitation.

The meeting is designed to acquaint volunteer workers with solicitation procedure for the 1960 fund drive being held this month.

Tonsillitis Victim Leaves His Bed to Rescue Two Girls

Sandusky, Ohio — Robert Adler had tonsillitis and was home at Chaska Beach in Huron Tuesday.

Lisa O'Connor, 4, and her sister, Carol, 7, plunged through thin ice into the waters of Lake Erie about 60 feet off the beach.

Adler's wife, Carol, saw them go down and called her husband, a 24-year-old Huron High school teacher.

Adler jumped out of bed and crawled on his stomach to reach the girls. He broke through once, but climbed out of five feet of water to grab Lisa, who had fallen into water over her head, and Carol, who was clinging to the edge of the ice.

The girls were treated for exposure. Both suffered frost bite and were badly frightened.

Lawrence Says

Politics Cloud Issues on Civil Rights

Friction, Bitterness Employed to Gain Election Publicity

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Resentment, hypocrisy, deep-seated antagonisms, political selfishness—all these are part of the background of what is being called a "civil rights" debate in the United States senate.

Little is apparent of the feeling that disputes can be resolved if a Lawrence conciliatory spirit prevails. Friction and bitterness are being engendered daily. It is

Rick does all his scenes ahead of time, then the rest of the cast catches up later.

For instance, Rick will be gone for two months, making "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" in Hawaii. Now he's racing through a number of TV shows so he can take off. So far, no Nelson has missed making an appearance in any of the shows.

"We have to turn down some pictures for the boys," Ozzie explained, "but we're not arbitrary about it. There's usually some reason. For instance, Warner's wanted Rick for 'Dark at the Top of the Stairs.' It was a beautiful script at first, eliminating the anti-Semitism issue and the boy's suicide of the play. But then they went back to the original version. It was too downbeat."

This can mean serious dislocation of production. When either of the boys does a movie, the TV scripts have to be prepared far ahead. David or actually promoted as a means of getting publicity. Even many of those citizens who not so long ago were crying out for "law and order" seem strangely silent when Negro and white demonstrators enter private business establishments and refuse to leave seats pre-empted by them in the restaurants until ousted forcibly.

Many people who enter the stores and see the demonstrators are beginning to send unfriendly glances toward all Negroes they see. One wonders whether the instigators of the "sit down" stunts have taken into account the damage to race relations which has already been done.

Require Literacy The debate in the senate is supposedly over "voting rights." This is not the basic issue. For the south does recognize the right of a qualified citizen to vote. The controversy is over the method that shall be used to determine whether a voter is qualified. Northern proponents of so-called "civil rights" legislation favor federal government policing of registration of voters—hitherto predominantly a state function. In the north as well as the south, literacy tests are required and in some states property must be owned as a qualification for voting.

The fifteenth amendment to the constitution says the right of citizens to vote shall not be abridged because of "race or color."

There is a moral question as to whether the amendment was really ratified by the will of the people's elected representatives in three-fourths of the state legislatures. In the south the legislatures were dominated by military forces sent there by the federal government after the war was over. Ratification of amendments to the constitution was compelled, in some instances, at the point of the bayonet. The south hasn't forgotten all this. Many of the wounds of those days were healed in

Bike License Fees Doubled After Fight

Despite a strong fight, Ald. Tucker lost his argument Wednesday to stop doubling of bicycle fees.

He also voted in favor of doubling the fee to 50 cents. Doubling the fees passed by one vote, with Mayor Mitchell casting the deciding vote to break a tie.

Costs 32 Cents

Ald. Tucker asked for a separate vote on the public safety committee's recommendation for doubling the fee. The committee had followed Traffic Lt. John Gosch's advice after he pointed out that cost of issuing the licenses had risen to some 32 cents after 25 years at the same fee of a quarter.

The city has to render some services, not make money on them, declared Tucker. For instance, he said, parking and speeding tickets are issued and police chase burglars—if the cost was considered, burglars probably wouldn't be arrested.

"Two different things," cried Ald. Bogan.

Said Ald. Malmstrom, "I'll personally pay the $25 or so the city loses on the licenses."

Write It Down

"Put that in the minutes," interjected Ald. Groh.

Voting against increasing the bike fees were Ald. Bogan, Ertl, Loos, Malmstrom, Priebe, Schumacher, Stumpf, Tews and Wagner.

The increased fees will go into effect when licenses are issued, probably in April. There are approximately 6,700 licenses sold in the city annually.

Former Minister At St. John Dies

The Rev. John W. Reuschel, 82, Holland, Mich., pastor of the Lutheran church at St. John for 28 years, died Tuesday in Holland after a short illness.

Funeral services will be Friday at St. Paul Lutheran church, South Haven, Mich. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery, South Haven.

Taverns Will Close at 2 a.m. During Summer

1-Vote Margin Sets Later Closings for Appleton Bistros

By one vote Appleton aldermen have decided to allow the city's taverns to stay open until 2 a. m. during daylight saving hours.

It took the council two votes to override its ordinance committee and provoked oratory on morals, businessmen and comments on personal research during the Wednesday night session.

The committee in a telephone poll of its members by Chairman Hannemann, added the refusal to extend tavern closing hours to its official report. The report aldermen received before the council session did not carry the recommendation.

Tavern League

Hannemann told the council that Outagamie Tavern League President Alfred Breitrick had called him and asked the committee to report on the item because tavern league members would be at Wednesday night's session. They were—about 35 of them.

Breitrick told the council tavern keepers police their businesses and 71 per cent of the owners favor the 2 a. m. closing hours in Appleton. Outlying areas have the 2 a. m. closing time, and Appleton customers take their business out of the city, he declared.

Personal Research

"You have to look at both sides," commented Ald. Tucker. "I've done a lot of personal research on this, as many of us have, and I can't find any definite trend for or against the later time."

"You're trying to legislate morals—let people do as they please," Ald. Malmstrom said.

Tucker asked for a separate vote on the closing hour and aldermen discovered that voting either aye or no would kill the item.

This produced some consternation until City Atty. Don Jury explained a resolution for a 2 a. m. closing could be offered.

Vote Against

Voting against the committee's report killing the 2 a. m. closings were Ald. Captain, Ertl, Tews, Groh, Lautenschlager, Loos, Malmstrom, Schneider, Stumpf and Tucker.

Voting in favor of the 2 a. m. closing were the same aldermen with the exception of Ald. Tews, who was replaced by Miller on the aye vote.

Ald. Ogilvie, before the 2 a. m. closing came to a vote, tried to restrict the hours to Friday and Saturday only, but only he and Ald. Priebe voted for it.

Changes Sought

Immediately after the vote, Ogilvie submitted resolutions asking for the weekend only hours and for exclusion of beer bars from the 2 a. m. closing. The ordinance committee will consider the changes.

City Atty. Don Jury must now draft the ordinance and the council again approve it.

Band Saw Mishap Injures Worker's Arm

Menasha — Clifford Jansen, 35, 2806 Heather avenue, Appleton, received a right arm cut at 12:45 p. m. Wednesday while working on a band saw at Menasha Wood- en Ware corporation. He was released today from Theda Clark Memorial hospital.

Francis Langlais, 52, route 2, Menasha, received outpatient treatment at the hospital Wednesday night for a cut left elbow, received in a fall from a truck.

Ask Denial of All City Work To Contractor

Request Follows Hearing on Charges Against Acheson

A request to deny an Appleton contractor the right to bid on city jobs for two years was made to the Appleton council Wednesday night by Ald. Mrs. Stillings.

Floyd Acheson has been charged with filing false payroll statements with the city. At a board of public works hearing Tuesday, movies and other contractors' payrolls were examined, but the board declined to make a ruling until its Tuesday meeting.

It is charged that Acheson used workmen in jobs in which they should have been paid higher rates under the city's minimum wage structure, based on prevailing union craft rates. Acheson maintained that workers didn't have to belong to a craft and that some were working on a trial basis.

Acheson's payroll records indicate that he employs laborers and machine operators. Other contractors, doing similar types of work, have records indicating several crafts.

Mrs. Stillings' resolution specifically asks that the city refuse to accept any Acheson bids or award any contracts for public works for two years from Wednesday.

The request was sent to the board of public works.

Action on Glacier Park in State Delayed

More Time Needed For Field Study, Congressmen Told

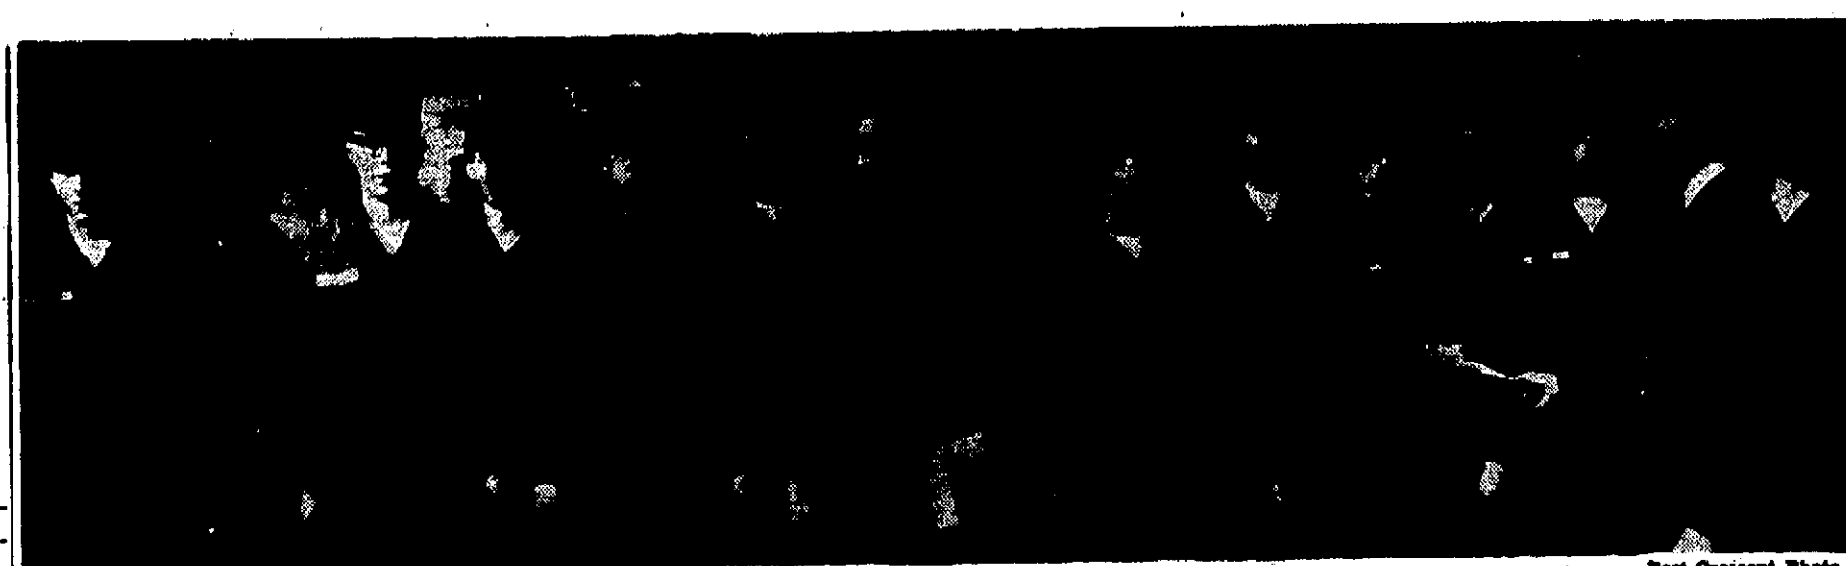

Washington—(U)—Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) expressed disappointment Tuesday with the decision of the Interior department to withhold action on establishment of an ice age national park in Wisconsin.

The department notified Wiley and Reps. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis.) and Lester R. Johnson (D-Wis.) that it needs more time to study feasibility of establishing the park.

Elmer F. Bennett, under secretary of the Interior department, said additional field studies, requiring the services of technicians on the ground for several months, would be needed.

3 Main Areas

Bennett said there are three areas in the state which include major elements of ice age glaciation. They are the Kettle Moraine State Forest area, the Baraboo-Marxville Sixteen Members of the National Guard headquarters company, first battle group, 127th infantry, were promoted in ceremonies at the National Guard armory. Promoted to E4, back row, from left, are Duane V. Earll, Hortonville; Patrick F. Farrell, Kaukauna; Lawrence D. Gonnering, Freedom; James E. Hameister and Clifford L. Huolihan, both of Appleton; and Reuben H. Kester and Richard G. Kuettel, both of Hortonville. In the front row, from left, are Melvin L. DeBroux, Kaukauna; Edward G. Steenis, Appleton; and Norman R. DeBroux, Kaukauna, all promoted to E7; Charles A. Kolb, Appleton, E6; James P. Huss, Freedom, and James J. Van Asten, Kaukauna, both E5; and Eugene J. Micke, Wrightstown, E4. The awards were presented by newly-promoted First Lt. Dallas Wixom, Appleton. Absent were Robert Anderson, Menasha, E3; and George W. Zitelman, Menasha, E5.

Verona region and the Interstate park and St. Croix river region.

High Cliff State Forest park in Calumet county, financed in part by the forestry mill tax used in Kettle Moraine counties, was not in the proposed glacier national park.

Bennett said that existing state parks, forests and other public reservations already contain most of the choicest glacial exhibits and the federal agency has no wish to preempt the state from continued ownership of any such areas.

The national park as proposed by Wisconsin congressmen would wind a narrow, serpentine route for about 500 miles through 26 counties, following the terminal edge or moraine of the Cary ice sheet of centuries ago.

Wiley Opposes Larger Cheese Import Quotas

Washington —(U)— Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) urged the tariff commission Tuesday not to increase import quotas for edam, gouda, Italian-type and other similar cheese produced in this country.

The tariff commission last fall held hearings on proposals to increase such import quotas. Wiley said he expects the commission to reach a decision soon on the issue.

"Frankly," Wiley said in a letter to Commission Chairman Joseph E. Talbot, "I would sincerely hope that the tariff commission would find it against the best interests of our domestic economy—as I firmly believe it is—to increase such imports."

The domestic cheese industry, Wiley said, is capable of meeting the needs of consumers in this country.

Wiley said domestic cheese producers currently are having economic difficulties. These would be increased, he said, if larger volumes of foreign cheeses were allowed in this country.

4 Per Cent Increase In Nation's Traffic Deaths Over Last Year

Chicago —(U)— The nation's traffic deaths rose 4 per cent in January compared to January 1959, the National Safety council reports.

The increase, from 2,760 to 2,870, centered in six popular states, that collectively accounted for 192 more deaths in January this year than in the corresponding month of last year, the council said.

The six states are Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, New Jersey, and South Carolina.

"We can only hope that this increase will sound an alarm to drivers, pedestrians and traffic enforcement agencies for extra effort to hold down the toll," Howard Pyle, council president said.

No Plans for Bong Air Base

Laird Says Move Prevents Putting Area in Condition

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — The air force has "no foreseeable plans for the use of its property at Bong air force base," Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp has told Rep. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield.

A member of the house appropriations subcommittee which allocates money for military construction, Laird said that recent action of the house armed services committee prevents his group from earmarking any money to put the base in condition to be sold or leased to the state of Wisconsin.

"The armed services committee had three alternatives to take so far as Bong is concerned," Laird said. "They could have approved its being declared surplus. "Secondly, the committee could have written new language into the authorization bill which would have granted the appropriations committee the authority to expend the funds requested by Governor Nelson to complete facilities at the base so that it could be used as an industrial park," Laird continued. "Thirdly, the house armed services committee could refuse to permit any action at all to be taken on Bong. This last course was the one the committee chose to follow."

Change Name For Districts

Supervisors Pass Addition of Water Conservation Tag

Stevens Point — A change in the name of soil conservation districts was endorsed by more than 250 persons at the Wisconsin Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors Wednesday.

The new name will be soil and water conservation districts. County boards of each of the 71 districts must first approve the resolution. The state legislature then must make it a law. If enough states make the change, it will be done throughout the country.

Equal need for water conservation and the measure of work done in it was given as a reason for the change.

Other Resolutions
Other resolutions passed included establishment of a state legislative committee, consisting of a member from each area in the state. The 71 state districts are in seven areas. The Fox Cities are in Area 4. Lawrence H. Johnson, route 2, Algoma, is its director.

The resolutions committee also supported a request that the state appropriate funds for direct assistance to soil conservation districts. Oscar Laper, retiring president, Tuesday asked for an $80,000 starter appropriation.

New officers of the state association are Lloyd Johnson, New Richmond, president; Lawrence Johnson, Algoma, vice president; and S. D. Macomber, New Lisbon, secretary-treasurer.

City Shovels Walks, Then Sends Bills

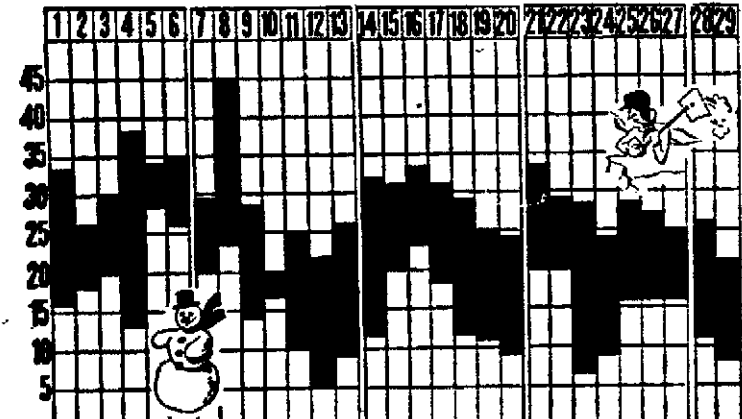

Fargo, N. D. — The city of Fargo is shoveling sidewalks for negligent residents who wait too long to begin cleaning up after snow storms.

The city undertook the job after receiving complaints about unshoveled walks being blocked with snow. The cost, in bills sent the property owners, is nine cents a running foot.

February Weather Direct Contrast to One Year Ago

February was in direct contrast to the same month a year ago. This year the month was pleasant and mild. Last year there was heavy snow and cold.

Last year there were 11 days of zero or colder weather, compared to the last three weeks of February this year which have been persistently mild.

Daily high temperatures last month were above freezing eight days. There was a high of 45 on Feb. 8. The monthly mean of 22.1 degrees was 3.1 degrees above the 60-year February average.

Precipitation was .12 of an inch below normal. There were 1.9 inches of melted precipitation. Snowfall, however, was so light and fluffy that the monthly total of 12.1 inches was 3.7 inches above the monthly average. Snow rec-

Federal Leader Cites Land Problems in U. S.

Population Explosion, Need of Pure Water Listed by Conservation Executive Secretary

BY ROY F. VALITCHKA II

Post-Crescent Farm Editor

Stevens Point — Increasing land damage, greater need of pure water and urban expansion into farm land were cited as problems facing the United States by Gordon Zimmerman, executive secretary of the National Association of Soil Conservation districts, here Wednesday.

He spoke at the final session of the state meeting of the Wisconsin association of SCD supervisors.

"The rate of land damage in the U. S. exceeds the rate at which we can conserve that land," he said. "Water needs are increasing by leaps and bounds, but the rate of water pollution also is increasing steadily."

Besides this, the population explosion offers a problem, he said. The explosion seems new and its demands somewhat distant and in the future so we tend to forget it, he said. "Urban expansion is part of the big business of a growing America," he said. One million acres of agricultural land are lost a year. This land is the finest farm land, too, because it is flat and suitable for building, Zimmerman added.

A farmer with low income is not the best candidate for conservation practices, Zimmerman said. The drive for conservation is directly related to farm income. Farm income must be improved to allow the farmer to pay the costs of conservation practices, he explained.

Two Solutions
Four things are needed in conservation to improve it, he said. They are a program of action, friendly environment in which to work, money and technical aid to conservation districts.

Two solutions are available to solve the conservation dilemma and bring every farm under a sound conservation practice, Zimmerman said. Government can pass laws to regulate all land and water, he explained. If this happens, however, the democratic operation whereby people solve problems is lost, he noted.

Activities Listed
"Or should you let the soil conservation district do it or the government?" he asked.

Most people in the U.S. are not apathetic but believe the SCD, foresters, extension service and SCS are doing good jobs, Zimmerman said. Some activities of the national association listed by Zimmerman were developing a conservation program, maintaining working relationships and making appearances before congress, providing literature and printing services to districts, pooling ideas of U.S. districts and coordinating them into an overall program, and maintaining lines of communication with business and industry interested in conservation.

The 274th Army Reserve Regiment (basic combat training) last week received its colors during ceremonies conducted for Fifth Army XIV corps inspectors. The colors were presented to the Menasha-based regiment, rated at last summer's field training as an outstanding unit, by Maj. Gen. Gilbert W. Embury, Milwaukee, 84th division commander, at left in upper photo. The colors were received by Lt. Col. Bert J. Dunlap of Green Bay, 274th regimental commander. In lower photo, Dunlap accompanied Maj. Melvin W. Olson, a XIV corps inspector general, who examined the rifle of Staff Sgt. Anton J. Putzer, Oshkosh, a headquarters company administrative clerk.

Menasha Water, Light Income, Production Up for City Utility

Menasha — Income and production of the Menasha Electric and Water Utility reached new high marks last year, according to the annual statement published by Thomas McGuire, superintendent. Gross revenues were $1,031,763 in 1959, the first year the million-dollar mark was topped. In 1958 the revenues were $972,894. Broken down, the 1959 revenues were $638,022 from sale of electricity and $193,760 for water. Net income — the utility's profit in 1959 — was $265,029, representing a 23 per cent increase over 1958's $215,141. In the same period, operating costs rose $15,823 to $751,818. In 1958, costs were $735,995. Costs include $541,381 operating expense, $127,011 depreciation, $6,428 property losses, and $76,997 for taxes other than income levies. $40,514 for interest. Interest on the electric generating plant's long-term debt amounting to $40,514 was paid during the year. Assets at the end of 1959 totaled $6,661,240, of which $141,585 was cash, $393,298 was temporary investments, $119,818 accounts receivable and $5,347,911 utility plants in service. Liabilities include $1,422,000 long term debt, $1,556,884 depreciation and reserves and $127,242 in accrued taxes and interest and accounts payable. In November the utilities offices were combined at 182 Main street, immediately across from the city offices.

where the collection department had been maintained. During the year, the utility personnel read meters throughout the city in preparation for 56,000 bills, mailed out and collected. 39,323,000 WH The electrical department generated 39,323,000 kilowatt-hours last year, a 7.3 per cent increase over 1958. Of that power output, 64 per cent was for residential lighting and hot water heating. That use rose 9.5 per cent over the preceding year. The other 36 per cent of

Sewerage Board To Hire Engineers For Plant Study

Seek Possible Volume Estimates From Each City, Menasha Town

Neenah — Three problems facing the Neenah-Menasha Sewerage commission were outlined to the Neenah council Wednesday night by Mayor Bell.

The problems were discussed at a meeting Wednesday afternoon of Mayor Bell, Mayor DuCharme of Menasha, Edward Den Dooven of the sewerage commission, and Melvin F. Crowley, commission attorney.

First was that the sewerage commission soon will retain consulting engineers to study the sewage treatment situation and decide the size of a plant necessary.

Second is to furnish both Neenah and Menasha with figures as to the volume of sewage coming from each city. Up to now the cities have known the total volume handled but not a breakdown of the amount from each city.

Town of Menasha Third is to learn the quantity of sewage which could be expected from the town of Menasha if the eastern part of the town was permitted to send sewage to the disposal plant.

Mayor Bell reminded the aldermen of the state board of health order requiring both Neenah and Menasha to provide secondary treatment of the sewage at the plant, to take steps to enlarge the plant capacity add to eliminate by-passing by sewage.

At the same time there is developing a situation, he said, in the town of Menasha where there is a necessity for either their building a sewage disposal plant or a connection to our plant.

"The state board of health has tried to have Menasha accept on a fee basis the town's sewage. But Mayor DuCharme takes the position, and rightly so, I think, that Menasha cannot alone make any decision as Neenah and Menasha are joint owners of the plant. If the town area were annexed to the city of Menasha, there would be no problem."

It is a matter of considerable moment to Menasha, Mayor Bell told the aldermen. If they vote not to accept the town's sewage and the town elects to build its own plant, that would stop Menasha from ever getting any of that property annexed. The town asked for an answer by April 1 on whether its sewage would be accepted into the Menasha interceptors.

The mayor indicated he did not know how a ready and immediate answer could be given since there are so many variables involved. The capacity of the sewage plant has to be considered as well as how the two cities can handle their storm water problems. Ald. Ewald Miller inquired whether the consulting engineers' study would cover the area south and west of Neenah where a sewage problem now exists and where wells are contaminated. The mayor replied it probably would be part of their consideration.

Ald. Paul Hansen hoped some help as to the outlying areas could be obtained from the regional planning study.

Oshkosh Group Incorporates To Promote City

Oshkosh — Chamco, Incorporated, has been incorporated by Oshkosh chamber of commerce members to receive and maintain funds of real and personal property to promote industrial, commercial, economic and social growth of the city and surrounding environment.

The corporation, which has Conrad Ben Pitcher, chamber of commerce executive secretary, as its initial agent, also will contribute to organizations authorized to carry on similar activities.

The articles of incorporation specifically state that the new corporation will not indulge in propaganda campaigns, attempt to influence legislation or carry on political campaigns.

Initial directors are Charles J. Fiss, John E. Gilum, Leighton C. Hough, Henry H. Kimberly, Harry E. Meyer, Jr., Edward H. Rudoy, Robert F. Schoenwetter, Edward S. Schrank, Rufus K. Schriber, III, and Carl H. Steiger. Incorporators are Fiss, Meyer, Schoenwetter, Pitcher and Ted W. Patterson.

Safety Duel Undertaken by Two K-C Mills

Neenah, Kimberly Plants Involved In Year-Long Test

Neenah — An inter-mill safety contest between two major production mills of Kimberly-Clark corporation is underway with Neenah mill employees challenging Kimberly mill employees. The contest will run for a year. Both mills are classified as "A" mills because employees work 170,001 man-hours or more per month.

Monthly trophies are to be awarded the winning and losing mill with the winner receiving a miniature Safe Worker statuette, the loser an "eight ball" which is paraphrased from the game of billiards... and implies that one is in a bad position.

Under arrangements of the contest, the superintendent of the department in which the last accident of the month occurred in the losing mill will deliver the winning trophy to the mill which is to receive it. In case of a tie, the winning trophy will be shared equally for the following month.

Neenah Mill employees currently have culminated 1,323,000 man-hours without a lost-time accident. For the two months of 1960, no accidents involving a disability have been reported.

Steam Hose Injury Fatal to Neenah Man

Neenah — A 36-year-old Neenah truck driver died at 6 a. m. today in St. Anthony hospital, Chicago, of head injuries suffered Wednesday in a freak accident which occurred as he was attempting to unload his vehicle.

He was Lloyd Hashbarger, 116 Edna avenue, employed by Kampo Transit company, Neenah.

Company officials said Hashbarger was struck in the head by a steam hose he was using to remove accumulated ice from the drain on his tank trailer at Standard Paste and Glue company. The steam hose, carrying high pressure, escaped his grasp and swung about. The brass nozzle struck his head.

His trailer was carrying liquid pulp to the Chicago firm.

Twin City Deaths

Mrs. C. S. Wollerman

Neenah — Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Stridde Wollerman, 83, former Neenah resident who died at Eustis, Fla., Tuesday after a 2-week illness, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Westgro Funeral home. Dr. John E. Bouquet, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be in charge and burial will be in Rivals for a Kimberly-Clark corporation safety trophy are Art Homblette, left, health and safety coordinator of the Neenah mill, and William Van Hout, who holds the same post at the Kimberly mill, who are shaking hands like contestants before a fight as the inter-mill accident prevention contest opens. Trophies will be distributed on a monthly basis.

Liquor Tax Return To Neenah Up $3,200

Neenah — Receipt of a check for the city's share of liquor taxes paid the state for the second half of last year was announced at Wednesday night's council meeting by City Clerk R. V. Hauser.

The second half payment came to $10,512, bringing the year's total to $19,586, or $3,223 more than in the previous year. The 1958 return was $16,263.

The tavern license for beer protest the increase in license fees, a fee set in 1936, and one of them, Clarence Loehning, condemned the proposed li-

Clayton Farm Herd Average Tops in DHIA

Francis Zeller
Leads January List
On Butterfat Yield

Oshkosh — Francis Zeller of the town of Clayton had the high milk and butterfat producing herd for January, according to the Winnebago county Dairy Herd Improvement association report. John and Kathryn Bartlett, town of Oshkosh, had the high butterfat producing cow and Lyle Beck, town of Algoma, the high milk producing cow.

Zeller, with 44 grade Holsteins, of which five were not in milk, had an average of 1,578 pounds of milk and 56 pounds of butterfat. Alvin Allen and Sons with 26 registered Holsteins in milk averaged 1,367 pounds of milk and 55.6 of butterfat.

Two other registered Holstein herds in the high group were those of George Brenand, 40 in milk, 1,403 milk and 52.3 butterfat, and Lyle Beck, 24 in milk, 1,404 milk and 51.5 fat.

Three herds of registered and grade Holsteins in the top group listed on the report were those of Wayne Bradley, 24 in milk, 1,413 milk and 51.3 fat; James Eagan, 37 cows in milk, 1,308 milk and 48 fat, and Earl Holverson, 29 in milk, 1,275 milk and 48 fat.

Guernsey Herd
The registered and grade Guernsey herd of Warren Moon of 35 cows in milk averaged 931 pounds of milk and 45.6 pounds of butterfat in January.

The two remaining herds in the top 10 were grade Holsteins. These were those of Joe Scherer, 21 head in milk, 1,211 milk and 46.2 fat, and James Clark, 47 in milk, 1,188 milk and 44.7 fat.

Six registered Holsteins were among the top producing cows. "Susie" in the John and Kathryn Bartlett herd produced 2,976 pounds of milk and 116 pounds of butterfat and "Buckette" in the same herd had 2,821 milk and 110 butterfat pounds. Guy Grundy and Sons had one cow with a listing of 2,400 milk and 108 fat.

F. G. Pansie's "Buelah" yielded 2,080 milk and 104 fat and one in the state prison farm herd was listed for 2,186 milk and 104 fat and one in the state prison farm herd was listed for 2,186 milk and 104 fat.

The remaining cows were grade Holsteins and the top milk producing cow, "Hanna" in the Lyle Beck herd, yielded 3,000 pounds of milk and 107 pounds of butterfat. Allen Farms, Inc., had one cow with 2,040 milks and 111 fat for its production. Francis Zeller had one with 2,582 milk and 111 fat and another with 2,506 milk and 106 fat and the Guy Grundy and Sons herd came up with one with 2,400 milk and 108 fat. "Bell" of the Fahrwald farms herd produced 2,220 pounds of milk and 100 pounds of butterfat.

that the patients love and respect him.

In the brothers' own recreation room there is a hi-fi phonograph, a piano, comfortable chairs and a bridge table. "One of the brothers would like a chess partner, but at the moment we lack a chess player and a piano player."

Brother Benedict is learning quite a bit about recordings and likes to go to music stores to select records. "At first we joined a record club, but that was a mistake," he said with a twinkle. "We received classical records which we seldom play. We like the scores from musicals and orchestrations of modern music. One of our ambitions is to buy a new book for the library and a new album each month, but sometimes we cannot manage to do that. Then, sometimes, we can buy two at a time."

Happy to Return

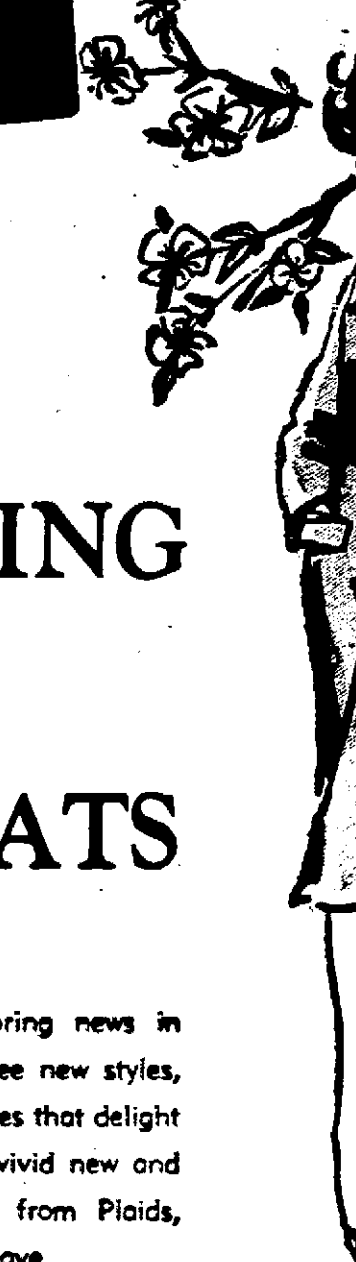

The brothers may return to their homes for two-weeks vacation each year. But one of the paradoxes Brother Benedict mentioned was that although visitors who come to see the patients are often anxious to leave, the patients themselves and the brothers are always glad to come "home" when they have been away.

"Perhaps it is because visitors picture themselves as being old and inactive someday, but it can be a wonderful way of life. Here we have no salaries and no hours, but I have never regretted choosing this order. And strangely enough," he added, "In this day of competition and struggle for financial success we always have as high a percentage of men choosing this vocation as we ever did."

K-C Honors 7 For Competing Trade Courses

Vice President Cites Qualities Of Recipients

Neenah — Seven Kimberly-Clark corporation employees were commended for "determination, willingness and courage" needed for completion of their 3-year junior trades programs. They were so cited by F. H. Werling, vice president of consumer products manufacturing at a Tuesday night program, in which completion certificates were presented by T. H. Perry, Neenah mill manager.

The seven men are Richard E. Breaker and Raymond L. Gasper, Lakeview division millwrights; Donald D. Kain, 482, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper mill workers. Guests included the Neenah mill junior trades advisory committee. They were Ed Plekarz, mill trades supervisor; Daryl Madsen, junior trades coordinator; John Kranzusch, mill electrician; Carl Landskron, Ellis Ohlrogge and James Miller, representing the unions; the Neenah mill engineering department foremen and head tradesmen to whom the graduating juniors have been assigned — Gerald Crane, Forest Stuenkel, Jim Ruthven, Len Hedberg, Elmer Sievert and John Bestler, foremen; and Paul Wollerman, Joseph Smarzynski and Harold Richardson, head tradesmen.

Mayor Vote Breaks Tie on Tavern Fee

Muench said increasing the license fees could drive out a group of men who have been quite cooperative with the city and police. There is very little juvenile delinquency in Neenah from the taverns, he said as he complained about grocery stores selling more beer than the taverns and paying only a $10 license fee. "We feel it is unjust, discriminates against us and will not raise enough money."

"Tax All Businesses"

Loehning asked why the council did not tax every businessman on the street if it was going to increase the tavern licenses. "We can't afford to pay. Is this another form of payola to jam down the tavernkeepers' throats?"

City Atty. Charles Schaller replied a license was not a form of taxation and that the legislature has set the limit on various types of licenses.

"Why not tax all businesses?" Edward Volkman asked. "All make a living selling something. Why should one take it and not the others? It doesn't make sense."

Norvald Smith complained that a young fellow can buy beer from a 16-year-old checker in a grocery store. "She can sell to my 13-year-old son. They pay only a $10 license." Schaller pointed out the city has an ordinance that no one under 21 can buy beer anywhere, including grocery stores. Grocery store clerks selling the beer with other groceries can be under 21, however.

Ald. James Dinius pointed out the state law sets the Class A beer license, such as for beer depots and grocery stores which sell beer for consumption off the premises, at $10. The council can do nothing about that.

He cited a survey made of 18 cities the size of Neenah.

Hedberg Sanders Neenah with its $75 Class B liquor license is second from the bottom among the 18. The highest is $500 and the average is $200.

"This increase is a protection to the strength of your own organization. With such a low license, it is an open invitation for anyone to open a tavern when the new census is out. The city has been up to the limit allowable at the present census figure."

"The license fee has not gone up since 1936 while all other city costs have gone up," Dinius continued. "The amount of money to be raised is small but the council plans to look at every source."

Loehning replied that if the Neenah tavernkeepers could operate as they do in other nearby cities, they might be willing to pay a higher license. "Here they are arrested if they open on election day while in other cities they haven't been arrested."

Taverns Pay $5,200

Ald. Paul Hansen pointed out the police budget was $166,350 while the revenue from the tavern licenses was only $5,200 after several tavernkeepers cited a supreme court decision that the license fees paid by taverns was to go to the costs of regulating them.

Ald. Warren Sanders said he favored strict regulation of the liquor industry as much as anyone else and was disturbed by the actions at Madison on this. The tavernkeepers have a certain amount of merit in their arguments and have been losing business to the beer depots and grocery stores. "We take one area to increase fees but do not give attention to other areas and that disturbs me."

Ald. Leonard Hedberg added that in light of the chamber of commerce trying to keep business in town, the committee should reconsider its recommendations. Dinius then wondered if business was so poor, how come some of the tavernkeepers haven't dropped out. "We have always been at the maximum allowed."

The council then split 5 to 5 on the liquor license increase with Mayor Bell joining the negative group to defeat the increase.

The plant, built several years ago, is supplemented by an 850-KWH standby diesel-powered unit in the water plant building. To distribute the electricity, the utility maintains 51.8 miles of 2,400 and 4,160 volt lines, 401 transformers, 7,357 meters and 678 street lamps. The peak load during the year was at 4:55 p.m. Dec. 28, when demand was at a rate of 9,800 KWH. Since early spring, a water plant addition has been under construction. Now complete except for minor finishing work, it affords an 8-million-gallon daily capacity, almost doubling the previous capacity. Last year, the plant pumped 1,432,856,000 gallons of water, a 4.8 per cent increase over 1958. Of that, 16.8 per cent was for residential and 83.2 per cent for commercial and industrial accounts. The peak pumpage days were Aug. 5 and 26, when 5,014,000 gallons were used each day. To distribute the water, the department maintains 43 miles of pipeline, 3,739 service connections, 3,810 meters and 270 hydrants.

Zuelke Fires 299 In Classic League

4-Pin Fails To Fall on Final Ball

Neenah — Arnie Zuelke missed his third perfect game by just one stick Wednesday night when the 4-pin failed to fall on the 12th ball of his third game in the Fox Valley Classic league at Lakeroad Lanes.

Zuelke, who grooved 11 straight strikes before getting a 9-pin count on a good hit on the final throw, finished with a 712 national honor count.

place Jessup Realty team, Zuelke preceded his mammoth effort with lines of 205 and 308. His two 300 games were bowled at Oshkosh.

The national count was Zuelke's second of the year in the Classic league. It was preceded by a 719 last fall. It was the sixth honor series of the year on Twin City lanes and the fourth in the Classic league.

Belts 268 Line

The big game, the highest of the year in league play, was the second best ever rolled at Lakeroad. Les Dahms of Oshkosh had a perfect game in a summer league.

Roy Ginnow belted the runnerup 665 series, which included a giant-sized 268 game. Ben Lewandowski, who had a 300 game in open bowling in January, fired 234-634 and Al Kobussen had 620.

Other high totals included Ray Rehbein 619, Bernie Davis 611, "Moe" Coenen 236-610, Wally Moore 606, Gerald Cardin 605, Hilly Koslowski 595, "Red" Hartwig 580, Bob Eggert and Armand Ott 589, John Danielson and Irv Hall 586, Rod Kiefer and Ray Sears 570, Carl Mittag and John Oberweiser 569, Stan Clark 566 and Ted Drucks 562.

1,033 Team Game

Jessup Realty fired a 1,033 game and Menasha Sheet Metal had a 2,924 series to pace team scoring. Hedberg's Drug leads Jessup's by three games with a 58-20 record.

Emert Stacker of the Hanson Insurance team uncorked a 561 trio in the Sportsmen's wheel Wednesday night at Lakeroad. "Rocky" Monty posted 550.

The Yellow Jacket team maintains a 9½ game lead with a 47½-18½ record.

Lucy Ruthven bowled a 197 game in the More Fun Ladies league Wednesday afternoon at Lakeroad. Atlas Office Supply is in the lead with a 48-21 record.

Norma Jensen of Marten's Dairy came up with the leading 193 game in the Hi Neighbor wheel Wednesday night at Lakeroad. Marten's leads by 8½ games with 49½-22½.

8 Teams Begin Competition in Darts Meet

Neenah — The eight teams in the Neenah Municipal Darts league will begin tournament play at 7 p. m. tonight at the Recreation building. The meet will conclude on March 10 when play begins at 7:30 p. m.

Four sets of games will be played this week and the last three next Thursday. Two points are awarded for a win and one for a tie. If teams are tied for first place at the end of the 2-week meet, a 7-inning playoff will be held. Ties for second and third place will not be played off.

The mixed doubles meet is slated for March 17 and 24. Registrations will be taken March 10. The field will be limited to 16 teams.

Four Tourney Games Carded

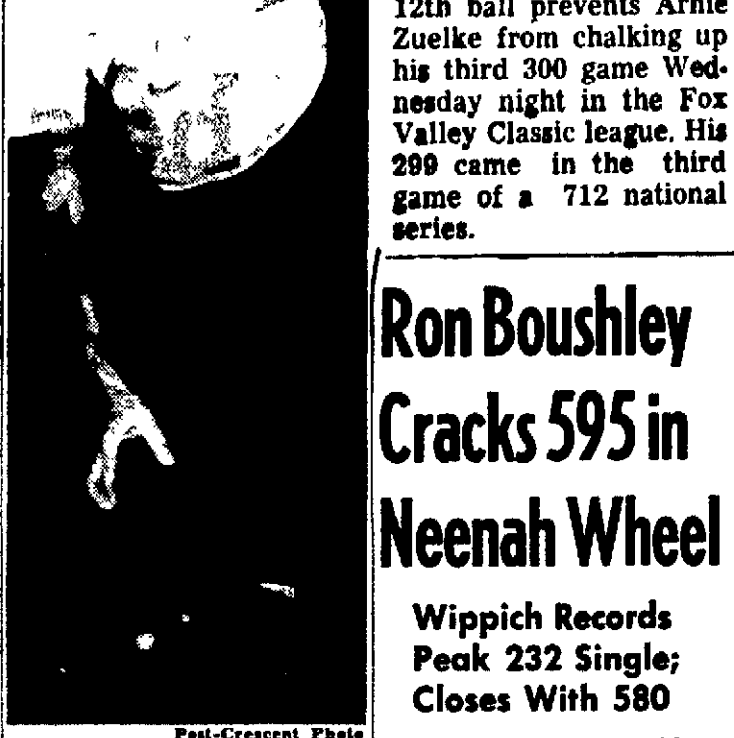

Host St. Patrick Faces Oshkosh '5' In Quarter Finals

Menasha — Three Fox Cities entries are among the eight quarter finalists scheduled to see action in the CYO Basketball tournament at the St. Patrick's gym tonight.

Host St. Patrick, the only one of the original three Twin City entries still in contention meets Sacred Heart of Oshkosh at 9:30. The Shamrocks downed Sacred Heart of Shawano and Sacred Heart won over St. Michael's of Keshena.

The opener at 6:30 will match Annunciation of Green Bay against St. Paul of Manitowish while St. Mary of Appleton and St. Clement of Sheboygan will square off at 7:30. The 8:30 game will bring together Holy Name of Kimberly and St. Mary of Fond du Lac.

The 8:30 and 9:30 winners will collide at 7 p. m. Friday in a semi-final test while the victors in the two earlier games vie at 8 p. m. Friday.

700 Tickets on Sale at Door for MHS Tourney

Menasha — Approximately 500 general admission tickets will go on sale at the door for tonight's Menasha subregional basketball tournament, Prin. L. A. Wiengbergen, tournament manager, reported this morning. The doors will open at 6:25 p. m. The first game starts at 7 p. m.

The consolation and championship games will be played Sunday night.

Ankerson, Ristau Top Rocket, Jay Scorers

Twin City Quints Face Winnebago and Foes In Tourney; 3rd Intercity Test Possible

Menasha — Jack Ankerson paces the Neenah scorers and Dave Ristau is the top Menasha marksman as the local squads move into Menasha subregional tournament play this evening.

Ristau and his Bluejay mates are matched against Oshkosh in the 7 p. m. opener while the Rockets tangle with Omro in the windup at 8:30 p. m. Wins or losses by both clubs would set up the third intercity game of the season Friday night.

Ankerson, who has scored 400 points in 18 games, is averaging slightly better than 22 points per start. He has bettered 30 on three occasions and topped 20 seven other times.

Dick Wilson ranks second on the Rocket squad, with 256 points and Tom Smith is third with 201.

Stenson Second

Ristau's 258 points in 17 games leads the Menasha attack. He started strong, ran into a midseason slump, but has been in the double figures in five of the last six games.

Senior Jim Stenson ranks second with 212 points while Bill Ritchie has tallied 203.

The Bluejays lost to Neenah in last year's first tournament game, then defeated Omro in a consolation match and bowed to Kaukauna in the consolation finals.

The Rockets, after getting by the Jays 63-59 in the first game of the twice-postponed meet, fell to Oshkosh 71-60 in the subregional finals.

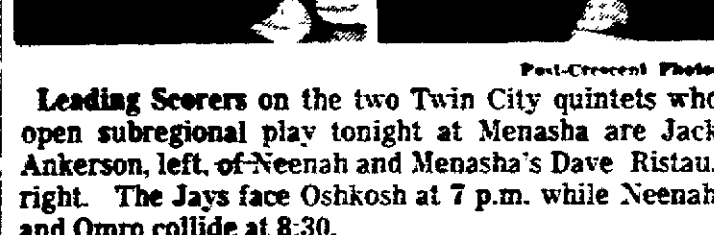

Neenah hasn't played Omro in the tournament in recent years but the Jays and Indians had a couple of barnburners in the last four seasons. The Menashans won 66-65 in 1956 when Harold Haas hit 19 for 19 from the free throw line while the next year a late Menasha rally fell short and the Oshkosh squad launched a 62-61 triumph.

The unofficial scoring:

Wippich Records Peak 232 Single; Closes With 580

Neenah — Ron Boushley of the Hoerning's team toppled a 595 trio and Don Wippich of Ed and Woody's had a 232 single in the Lakeroad Goodfellowship Bowling league Tuesday night at Lakeroad Lanes. Wippich finished with a 580 threesome.

Jim St. Louis fired a 578 count, Gene Sorenson hit 569, with a 227 game, and Don Schultz collected a 555 count. Hoerning's holds a half game lead over Lakeroad with its 48½-26½ record.

Vicki Wiatrowski's 203 game led the Tuesday Night Ladies Handicap circuit at Lakeroad.

Neenah Jayvees Close With Win

Neenah — Neenah's junior varsity squad completed its season with a 10-8 record when it defeated New London 53-52 in last weekend's Mid-Eastern conference finale.

John Christianson's two free throws with 10 seconds left provided the tying and deciding points. The score was tied at 38-all at the close of three periods.

Jan Pollnow scored 21 points on nine baskets and three free throws for Neenah. Don Christianson added 14 points. Bob Beckman hit 12 for the Bulldogs.

6 Officials Named To Work Menasha Tournament Games

Menasha — Six officials have been named to work the Menasha regional tournament games tonight, Friday and Saturday evening.

Ted Scallisi of Two Rivers and John Howland, Mosinee, are scheduled to officiate tonight. Joe Caplick and Jake Gores of Fond du Lac are the Friday officials and Steve Reaga and Orlando Pallesco of Milwaukee will work the Saturday finals.

Ken Reinke will be official scorer and H. L. Sherman, the official timer.

Madison — Wausau became the first University of Wisconsin Extension conference team since 1951 to finish with an unbeaten record when it picked up its 14th straight triumph as league play closed last weekend.

The Lumberjacks, in gaining the sole title which they shared with Racine last year, turned back Kenosha 90-51 in the finale. The most recent team to close without a loss was Sheboygan which won 12 straight nine years ago.

Menasha and Sheboygan tied for third and fourth with 7-7 records. The Trojters beat Green Bay 64-52 in their final game while Sheboygan won from Marinette 98-66. Racine was second with an 11-3 mark.

Individual scoring honors went to Marinette's Dick Harper with 331 points for an average of almost 24 per start.

Jerry Zuffa of Kenosha ranked second with 293 points. Menasha's best was Bob Morings were held in the state both by the interim committee which he began the boating law study and by the legislature during the 1959 session, he added.

Sees Possible Changes in Wisconsin's New Boat Law

Neenah — When the legislature reconvenes May 16, one agenda item will be consideration of possible changes in the Wisconsin boating laws, which will take effect in four weeks. The prediction was made Wednesday by Assemblyman Arnold J. Cane of Menasha before the Tri-City Boat Club.

Such things as speed limits for motorboats and use of boat toilets will be among the possible changes, Cane said. The law now requires that boats will be operated at speeds deemed "reasonable and prudent" and boat toilets may be used only on Lake Winnebago and the Mississippi river. A few fixed speed limits are set in some state areas, including 15 m.p.h. on Waupaca Chain O'Lakes.

Says It's Good Bill

Cane said he was convinced the boating law providing for registration and safety measures "was a good bill." Monday from the registration will be used for aid to local communities and for added expenses of the conservation department, charged with enforcement.

To those who object to the boating law, Cane said his answer is: "Where were they when this law was being considered?" Many public hear-

Marathon Drops Verdict to Neenah Paper; Co. E Loses

Neenah Industrial League was upended by Bergstrom's 39-35. Neenah Foundry topped Main Office 54-39 in the third contest.

Bergstrom's now leads with a 4-1 record while Marathon, Company E and Neenah Paper all have three wins and a loss.

The Bergstrom five led Company E 23-19 at halftime and maintained the 4-point edge in the last two frames. Ruf Ihde scored 18 points and George Raleigh added 13 for Bergstrom's while Clarence Lotzer had 11 for Company E.

Foundry was held to a 12-12 first quarter tie by Main Office but moved in front 23-15 at halftime and was ahead 35-26 at the end of three periods. Dick Rohe's 21 points topped the Foundry and John Bradish paced Main Office with 14.

Marathon led Neenah Paper 8-7 at the quarter but was behind 23-22 and 41-37 after the next two frames. Jerry Smith hit 16 points and Joe Kosiorek and Russ Simons each had 14 for Neenah Paper while "Fritz" Heiss led Marathon with 17.

Stores Feature Fish as Lenten Season Starts

Fish steps into the spotlight this weekend at Fox Cities markets as the lenten season gets underway.

Housewives scouting for meat substitutes won't have to look far for fish in fresh, frozen and prepared varieties. Eggs also are abundant and at a much lower price than a year ago. The canny shopper can find some good egg bargains at several stores where ungraded eggs both large and fresh are being offered as specials.

Fresh lake fish available include boneless perch at 40 cents a pound and northern pike as low as 25 cents a pound in the frozen variety are ocean perch at 30 cents a package, halibut steaks at 29 cents, jumbo shrimp at 79 cents a pound, South African and Rock lobster tails for $1.79 cents a pound. Two heat-and-eat values for the busy homemaker are French-fried perch at 50 cents a pound, haddock at 60 cents a pound and breaded shrimp at 60 cents for 16 ounces.

Tuna, Salmon
Tuna and salmon is available in various canned varieties. One good buy offers five cans of tuna chunks (7-ounce cans) for $1. When shopping for canned tuna, watch the can weight, often the white meat, quality tuna is a better buy at a few more cents per can than the darker flaked meat.

A lenten food favorite, fresh smoked chubs, has made its appearance on meat counters everywhere. These sell both by the pound and by 5-pound box, the latter seen in one store for $1.79. Outstanding buys in vegetables include sweet potatoes, now arriving in bigger quantities from the south. Other good vegetable buys include cabbage, carrots, yellow on-

Twenty Cars of a Southbound Chicago and North Western freight train were derailed a mile north of Pulaski about 5:30 Wednesday morning. Many of them carried pulpwood and paper products. The scattered pulpwood litters the right-of-way. Arrangements were made to transfer passengers around the damaged roadbed by bus.

Cigaret Consumption In Wisconsin Rises Nearly 7 Per Cent
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Cigaret consumption in Wisconsin rose nearly 7 per cent last year, the equivalent of 28,000,000 packages of cigarettes, the Wisconsin Food and Tobacco Institute reports.
The Wisconsin gain contrasted with lower increases in many of the states where state tobacco taxes were raised last year, said the trade group. It successfully opposed Gov. Nelson's proposal for higher Wisconsin tobacco imposts.

Chest X-Ray Unit To Stop at Valley Fair, Red Owl
The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association mobile chest X-ray unit will be in the Appleton area through March 11.

Free chest X-rays will be available at the following times and locations:
Little Chute Village hall, 2 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday.
Kimberly Village hall, for the same hours Tuesday, March 8.
Valley Fair Shopping, center, for the same hours Wednesday, March 9.
Red Owl store on W. Wisconsin avenue, same hours Thursday, March 10, and from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Friday, March 11.
The clinics are being financed by the Appleton Area Tuberculosis and Health association, local affiliate of the WATA. Arrangements for the unit were made by Mrs. Harry Jollie, scheduling chairman, and Miss Stell M. Brandt, president of the local association.

Russian Refugee Guest Speaker

The Rev. Edward Wilde, Green Bay, a refugee from communist Russia and pastor of East Moravian church, Green Bay, will speak at a World Day of Prayer service conducted by the United Church Women of Appleton, at 2 p. m. Friday at First Congregational church on "Laborers Together With God." He taught school under communism for two years before escaping to Canada in 1927. In 1929 he entered Moravian college and theological seminary, and after completing his training served in churches in Canada and North Dakota.

AAL President's Club to Meet

Five area men have qualified for the President's club of the Aid Association for Lutherans and will attend the club convention in New Orleans March 10 to 14 next week. AAL President Walter Rugland has announced.

Qualifiers are A. H. Blankenburg, Clarence S. Marten and Melvin A. Timmel, all of Appleton; Vilas Krueger, Clintonville, and Paul Kissing, Oshkosh. Selection is based on production during the last year.

AAL home office personnel who will attend the convention are Rugland; Clarence G. Steinwedel, Herbert Voecks, George V. Krampien, Ira L. Lezy and Edward A. Marten.

Special Program Set Up For Mentally Retarded

Services Provided With Establishment Of Central Wisconsin Colony School

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The first Wisconsin institution for the care of mentally retarded, that will have a research program as a basic part of its services, has been provided with the establishment of the new Central Wisconsin Colony and Training school near the state capitol.

Two infirmity units have been occupied by 220 patients thus far. They were chosen on the basis of their need for specialized medical, nursing and other care from the residents of two older institutions at Chippewa Falls and Union Grove.

Plan Others

As further facilities are provided here, other children will be transferred for treatment dictated by their special emotional, behavior or social problems, according to the plans of the state department of public welfare.

A nursery building that will eventually house an additional 440 children to the age of seven years is being built. It will have special therapy rooms and equipment.

Another building will have special surgical and medical equipment and rooms where specialized research will be conducted on a scale never before undertaken by the state division of mental hygiene.

The scientific investigation of all phases of mental retardation will be concentrated at the Central colony because of the availability of university of Wisconsin experts.

"This will be a mutually beneficial relationship in which Central colony will provide a wide variety of clinical material for continued, long-range and meaningful research activity. The university will provide the trained senior research men and graduate students, and their knowledge of techniques and methods," says the welfare administration.

State Does Not Benefit From Highway Fines

Bulk of Amount From Arrests Goes to County Treasuries

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The state motor vehicle department wants it known that it does not profit from the handsome yield of fines, bail bond forfeitures and court costs resulting from the arrests made by its highway patrolmen.

The department today issued a statement explaining that the total of such income last year amounted to the sizable sum of $1,377,372, but pointedly asserting also that the bulk of the amount was credited to county treasuries.

The only other major beneficiary was the Wisconsin school fund, which disburses shares to local school districts, it explained.

Paid to Counties

The law specifically provides that the money yielded from speed regulation violation forfeitures is paid into county treasuries and the state school fund, it was pointed out.

The statement was issued by James Karns, commissioner of the department.

State enforcement action last year brought a record fine total of $549,000, bond forfeitures totalling $677,000 and court costs aggregating $149,000.

"Neither the motor vehicle department, public service commission or state highway commission receive any financial support from arrest action of state patrol officers," he said.

State highway patrol and regulatory activities are financed through legislative appropriations, drawn from the receipts of state highway taxes.

State Savings, Loan Associations Increase Assets During 1959

Madison — (AP) — Wisconsin's 154 savings and loan associations increased their assets last year 13.24 per cent to a high of $1,616,024,486, R. J. Winkowski, savings and loan commissioner, says.

The boost, he said, amounted to $189,006,016. The state has chartered 114 of the institutions and the federal government the other 40.

Host Vike Wrestlers Have Chance for High Finish in MC Meet

Smith Shoots for 191-Pound Division Title; Cornell Favored to Repeat

Headed by a returning champion (Bob Smith) and boasting a number of outstanding sophomores, the Lawrence college wrestling team has high hopes of improving on its 1959 fifth-place finish in this weekend's Midwest conference meet in Alexander gym.

Powerful Cornell (conqueror of such big schools as Wisconsin and Nebraska) is a prohibitive favorite to rack up its eighteenth MC title in the last 19 years.

But, a spirited battle for the runnerup spot is imminent. With the luck of the draw to go along with their potential, Monmouth, St. Olaf, Knox, Carleton and host Lawrence all could make a strong bid to wind up second.

Clear Record — Smith, the Lawrence captain from Beaver Dam, hasn't been beaten since his opening match as a sophomore in 1958-9. This season, the junior standout has a clear record in nine matches — winning three by pins, two by decisions and four by forfeit.

Always on the light side for a heavyweight, and weighing a few pounds less than he did last season, Smith will bid for the 191-pound division title rather than heavyweight honors this time. Cornell's Tony Stevens, the 1959 champ at 191 pounds, is not defending his title because of a knee injury.

The Vikes' strong sophomore tourney contingent includes Scott Adam, at 123 pounds; "Chico" Kauffman, at 137; Jim Eastman, 167; and Pete Thomas, 177.

Veterans Ashley Haase (147) and Tom Rosi (157) are also potential placers for the Vikes, who have developed their best mat team since perhaps 1951.

Vike Coach Bernie Heselton has yet to decide whether to enter Darrow Glockner, Eric Ruth or John Dunning in the heavyweight bracket. Lawrence will not be represented at 130.

Adam started the season at 130—losing one match by decision and one by a pin. Switched to the 123 class, Adam has since run up a sensational string of six straight pins.

Kauffman has triumphed in eight of his nine matches—three by pins, four times by decision and once by forfeit. His lone loss came on a decision to Wisconsin's Bill Gorman in the finals of the UW invitational meet early in the season.

Seeding of Stars

Returning MC champions other than Smith are Cornell's Russ McClatchey, 123; Cornell's Bill Taylor, 130; Knox's Harold Row, 137; Cornell's Bill Peterson, 147; and Cornell's Mike Ferguson, 167.

Some of these stars may be wrestling at a different weight this year. Final division entries won't be known until after Friday's 2 p.m. to 3 weigh-in. The top wrestlers

Experience-Shy Viking Trackmen Enter Meet

Lawrence college will send nine varsity athletes and four freshmen to the tenth annual University of Chicago track meet—tantamount to the Midwest conference indoor championships—Friday night.

Menasha sophomore Bob Buchanan and Appleton junior Mike Ullwelling will run both the 60-yard high hurdles and the 60-yard lows. Buchanan will also compete in the broad jump.

The Vikes' relay distance medley unit will consist of sophomore Al Bond, doing the 440; junior "Chuck" Collins, 880; senior Ron Traver, 1,320; and senior Tad Pinkerton, the mile.

In the 2-mile relay, Lawrence will enter Traver, sophomore Bill Stout, senior Ron Simon and Pinkerton.

The mile relay combo includes Ullwelling, soph Gordon Becker, Bond and Collins.

Simon and Stout will also compete in the 2-mile run.

Lawrence's entry in the freshman relay distance medley will be made up of Don Kerssemeyer, Bill Stillwell, Herb Weber and Reed Williams.

This is Coach Art Denney's least experienced Lawrence track squad in years. Losses through ineligibility, drop-outs and other factors have taken from the squad such stalwarts as Gary Scovel, Gil Sutherland, Joel Blahnik and Mike Gross. Weaknesses in the field event are especially glaring.

The picture should brighten somewhat for the outdoor season when several athletes from the basketball and wrestling teams will join the track squad.

Two other dates are on Lawrence's indoor track calendar: the March 12 Milwaukee indoor games and the March 19 dual meet with Beloit.

Chicago usually wins its own invitational, and when it does, the meet runnerup is declared unofficial MC indoor champ. Last year, Beloit took the honors.

Five schools, including Lawrence, were unable to reach last year's meet because of heavy snowstorms.

Eddie Sawyer Gets Tough, Establishes Midnight Curfew

By The Associated Press
Eddie Sawyer is getting tough again. The Philadelphia Phillies' manager, one-time fatherly boss of the 1950 pennant-winning Whiz Kids, is apparently out to finish the job he lost in 1952.

Sawyer, who admittedly is working on a "win or else basis," Wednesday told the current crop of Phils: "All you fellows who have a lot of money stay out after 12 and we'll take some of it."

So there is a midnight curfew in Clearwater, Fla., where the Phillies are in spring training.

The last time Sawyer talked that way it was the manager who was eliminated.

Eddie first came to the Phils in midseason 1948. Two and a half years later he had the National league pennant, the Phils' first in 35 years.

But the proud Whiz Kids slipped to fifth in 1951, and Sawyer got tough. Players' wives were barred from spring training. Player discontent grew. People said Sawyer was too easy. The players lost respect for Sawyer. And by late July Sawyer was out of work.

Never Recovered
But the Whiz Kids never recovered and last July the Phils brought Eddie back to run the club.

Only pitchers Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons remain from the Whiz Kids, and

Two Badger Boxers May Be Sidelined in Friday Night Match

Madison — The University of Wisconsin boxing team may enter the ring with a revised lineup Friday night when it meets California Polytechnic in the fieldhouse.

Bob Christopherson suffered a hand injury earlier this week and his place in the 178-pound division may be taken over by either Bill Sensiba or Marshall Rand.

Jerry Turner, in the 156-pound class, has been sidelined by a Big Ten rule on his eligibility as a transfer student and may have to be replaced.

Dressen Likes Rookie Greene; Del Crandall Takes It Easy

Bradenton, Fla. — Manager Charlie Dressen likes the looks of a rookie righthander, Carl Greene, who had a 15-10 pitching record with Sacramento last year.

"He's got a good sinker and curve," Dressen said. "And if he can throw strikes the way he has done recently, he's got a spot in the bullpen."

Del Crandall, the hard-working Milwaukee catcher, has been confining his activities mostly to hunting practice and easy throwing exercises but Dressen said he was not concerned about it.

"Del is under doctor's orders about his conditioning," he said, "and we are going to allow him to continue to do just what and as much as he wants to do. We are not going to push him."

Bob Hartman, the 22-year-old southpaw from Kenosha, who reported about 10 pounds overweight, has slimmed down to his normal playing weight of about 185 pounds and is giving every indication that he will stick with the club this year. He was sent to Louisville last year where he had a 10-3 record.

Red Appears Ready to be 1960 Starter

Schoendienst Impresses Dressen in Long Workout; Cottier Looms As Late-Inning Relief Man

Bradenton, Fla. — Manager Charlie Dressen of the Milwaukee Braves, pleased with the performance of "Red" Schoendienst in the early days of spring training, believes he will be able to use the veteran second baseman as a starter in most baseball games this year.

"Red gets the ball as good as he did before he got sick," Dressen said Wednesday after watching Schoendienst go through a long workout.

Schoendienst was out most of the 1959 season with tuberculosis.

"The way it looks now," he added, "I'll play him five or six innings. Soon as we get a good lead, out he goes and Chuck Cottier goes in."

Only 10 Games
Cottier played only 10 games with Milwaukee last year and batted .125 before being sent to Louisville where he finished with a .226 mark.

He played in the Mexican winter league, however, and had a .379 batting average.

Dressen said he probably would use smooth-fielding Felix Mantilla as an alternate to Johnny Logan at shortstop this year.

The 25-year-old Mantilla signed his 1960 contract Wednesday and started working with the club. He has been playing winter baseball and appeared in good shape.

"Logan may need a rest now and then this year," Dressen said. "Mantilla is the guy I'm counting on to spell him."

Logan is one of the seven players still on the Braves' unsigned list. The others are Lew Burdette, Juan Pizarro, Don McMahon, Wes Covington, Joe Adcock and Bobby Avila.

Knights Beat Northland, Meet Titans

Stevens Point — St. Norbert scored a 70-58 victory over Northland Wednesday night for the right to meet Oshkosh in the Wisconsin National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics playoff Friday.

The winner of the game at Oshkosh will go to the NAIA tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

Northland jumped off to an early 23-14 lead before St. Norbert scored 12 straight points and gained a 26-23 halftime advantage.

Bill Feller led St. Norbert scoring with 18 points. Leon Barron paced the losers with 14.

Ted to Serve As Part-Time Batting Coach

Starts Feeling Better; New Duties Won't Affect Playing Status

Scottsdale, Ariz. — Is there a managerial job in Ted Williams' future?

Speculation on a managerial job in Ted Williams' future?

Williams will serve as part-time batting coach for the Boston Red Sox.

After a conference with General Manager "Bucky" Harris, field boss Billy Jurgens announced the assignment for Williams "in addition to his regular chores."

Feels Better
Ted, bothered by a painful neck ailment for a full year, said he doubted if he could play when he reported to camp Monday. However, he admitted he felt better Wednesday, ran hard, poled a couple of drives over the right field wall and barked: "I didn't come out here to be a pinchhitter."

Toronto Pair Retains Figure Skating Title

Wagner and Paul Defeat 11 Couples For World Crown

Vancouver, B. C. — Togetherness—a 1-word description of their skating brilliance — brought a fourth world championship Wednesday night to Canada's Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul.

Fresh from victory in the Winter Olympics, the shy young duo from Toronto defeated 11 other couples to retain their world crown.

Their triumph was nearly overshadowed by the smashing performance of another Canadian pair, Mario and Otto Jelinek. The Jelineks had finished fourth in the Olympics, but Wednesday night the judges applauded their 5-minute stint with marks nearly as high as those given the champions.

Third Place
Following the Jelineks in third place was West Germany's top duo, Marika Kilius and Hans-Jürgen Baunier, who had taken second in the Olympics.

Start of competition in men's singles is on today's program in the 5-day 1960 world championships.

Donald Jackson of Canada and Alain Giletti of France have been installed as favorites.

On the program tonight is the final competition in women's singles. Carol Heiss of New York City, Olympic and defending world champion, has built up a wide lead in skating compulsory figures.

Jack McCartan Reports for Ranger Workout

New York —(U)— Jack McCartan, whose goal-tending was a big factor in the U. S. Olympic hockey victory, is going to get a chance to show what he can do in the pro ranks.

The former Minnesota hockey and baseball star from St. Paul, McCartan was due to report to the New York Rangers for a workout today. If all goes well, he'll be in the nets when the Red Wings oppose the Detroit Red Wings Sunday.

Under National Hockey league rules, an amateur may play five games as a pro without losing his amateur standing. McCartan is on leave from Ft. Carson, Colo., but is scheduled to be discharged from the Army the latter part of this month.

Time Out with Mike Drew

College coaches and scouts are showing plenty of interest in Kaukauna High's LeRoy Weyenberg who will perform in the Hortonville sub-regional tournament.

University of Wisconsin freshman Coach Ron Nord (former Oshkosh High mentor) scouted Weyenberg in the second Ghost - Clintonville game and said the 6-5 youngster was "the best big man" he'd seen playing high school ball all season. LeRoy scored 36 against the Truckers.

A Notre Dame university scout watched Weyenberg in the first Kimberly game, when LeRoy was held to four points. Other schools which have expressed interest, according to Coach Jerry Hopfensperger, include Loyola of Chicago, Michigan State, Marquette and four or five state college conference schools.

Outside Shot

"Hoppy," former Marquette star, lists Weyenberg as a fine college prospect because "he's a good outside shot and he has a good head on his shoulders."

Here's a long-range prediction by Hopfensperger. The team that wins Friday's second game at Hortonville will go all the way to the state tournament. ("Hoppy" made the prediction earlier this week before he knew who would be playing in the title contest).

The coach credited the development of guard Bill Borchardt as being "the main reason for our fine record this year." He gave up punch outside to go with Weyenberg, Jerry says.

The injury to forward Jim Steger in the Kimberly game has been blamed by Hopfensperger for the slump which saw the Ghosts lose three of their last four M-E starts. "Jim was shooting 55 per cent in league games and we had a 12-1 record when he was injured," Jerry observed.

The tournament manager of the Watertown Regional is Watertown Superintendent of Schools Gene Tornow, former Appleton Roosevelt Junior High school coach and Appleton playground director.

The two top-rated clubs in the state are in one regional. No. 1-ranked Milwaukee Lincoln is in the Milwaukee West sub-regional, Waukesha (No. 2).

Rams Sign Pool To Coach Offense

Los Angeles —(U)— The Los Angeles Rams have announced that Hampton Pool, former Ram head coach, has returned to the team as Coach Bob Waterfield's first assistant and will be in charge of offense. Although terms of Pool's contract were not disclosed, it was understood he will get $20,000 a year.

in each weight class will be seeded in the opening round. The preliminary bouts (approximately 36 of them) will be staged Friday night, starting at 7 p.m. The second session—consisting of semi-finals and preliminary consolation—starts at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The 18 final bouts (in the consolation and championship class) get under way at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Two mats will be used at Alexander gym for the entire tourney except for the championship matches.

Among other leading performers in the meet will be Cornell's Fred Wright, unbeaten in heavyweight dual competition; Carleton's "Chuck" Severn, last year's runnerup at 123; Grinnell sophomore Dick Harris, unbeaten at 167; and Knox' Kent Richards, 1959 runnerup at 177.

An individual championship will be worth 10 points toward a team's total. Other point values are seven for a second place; four for third and two for fourth. In addition, one point will be awarded for each fall, forfeit or default and one point is earned for each match won except for the final championship and consolation matches.

The coaches will meet for the drawing at 3 p.m. Friday. The officials will be Jim Fox, Davenport; Dan McAdams, Rock Island; and Bo Cameron, Cedar Rapids.

Nelson Seeks Restoration of State Hunting License Taxes

Madison —(U)— Gov. Gaylord Nelson Wednesday urged quick action on federal legislation that would restore some $117,000 in hunting license taxes now being withheld from the state.

In letters to Wisconsin's congressional representatives, the governor said a June 4, 1959, change in federal distribution of half the tax money is "tying up badly needed conservation funds."

Murtaugh Bars Wives From Making Road Trips With Pirates

Fort Myers, Fla. —(U)— "No wives allowed on road trips this year," says Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Murtaugh made the new rule Monday as the Pirates officially opened spring training.

"We generally play mostly night games, and during the day a player might want to take his wife sightseeing or something like that, and it tends to tire a fellow out," said Murtaugh.

Luis Rodriguez Whips Vejar

Captures Unanimous Decision Before
2,665 in Florida

Miami Beach, Fla. —(U)—

Luis Rodriguez had no sooner finished thumping Chico Vejar when he raised a new clamor for a welterweight title bout with Don Jordan.

"Why should Kid Peret fight Jordan instead of me?" the 21-year-old Cuban flash asked in his dressing room. "He's fourth-ranked challenger and I'm first-ranked."

No one was offering any rebuttal, least of all the veteran Vejar, who lost a unanimous 10-round decision to Rodriguez before 2,665 fans Wednesday night in a nationally televised bout at Miami Beach exhibition hall.

Vejar, 28, from Stamford, Conn., weighed 154½ and Rodriguez 149½ for their bout.

Rodriguez, who decked Vejar for a 5-count in the sixth round, said Vejar "is the first middleweight I ever fought. I might have knocked him out but he kept clinching with me."

Clinch Chico did, after being staggered in the fifth, seventh and ninth rounds as Rodriguez tried for a kayo. But Vejar had enough left to put on a flurry just before the fight ended.

The loss was the twentieth in 111 bouts for Vejar, who has won 89 and fought two draws.

as a pinch-hitter and part-timer at first base and in the outfield. Then, inserted into the regular Cleveland lineup, he blossomed into one of the American League's most productive batsmen. He hit .363 with 20 home runs and 79 runs batted in while participating in 122 games.

Francona played an important part in the following situation in which Manager Joe Gordon made a neat move that helped win a game. Here's an opportunity to match wits with Gordon and discover how you rate as a grandstand skipper.

Cleveland and the Yankees are tied 3-3 in the top of the 13th at New York. Jim Coates (R) is on the mound for the Yanks. Francona, leading off, reaches second when first baseman Marv Throneberry throws wild after fielding his grounder. Rocky Colavito pops out. Minnie Minoso is walked intentionally and Dick Brown draws an unintentional walk, filling the bases. George Strickland (R) is the next batter with Woody Held (R) scheduled to follow. Strickland has one hit in four times at bat in the game.

Would you:
a. Put in a left-handed pinch hitter for Strickland?
b. Order Strickland to try a squeeze bunt?
c. Let Strickland swing away?
d. Gamble on a triple steal?

Answer on Page 5.

Rollie Hackbarth rattled a 616 threesome to show the way in the Sherwood Sportsmen's league earlier this week. One of his Yokeum Motors games, was a 235.

Ted to Serve As Part-Time Batting Coach

handed batsman becoming a managerial possibility has been bantered about in the Boston press for several years. The stir went beyond Red Sox fandom with the announcement of his coaching duties.

Williams shrugs it off. "It's nothing really new," Ted said. "I've been helping any hitter who asked for 10 or 12 years now."

"Now get this straight," Jurgens emphasized. "Ted's new duties won't effect his status as a player. In addition to his coaching, he'll be getting himself in shape to play, batting, running and fielding with the rest of the squad."

Jurgens said Williams can help rookies like Lucian Clinton, Carl Yastrzemski, Jerry Mallett, Marlin Goughtry and Lee Howell.

Williams did some hard running in the outfield Wednesday before taking some easy swings calculated not to put any pressure on the neck. Jurgens told Ted to go easy on the legs, Ted launched into the program so vigorously.

"I'm going to give this thing a battle," Williams said later. "I want to play very much. But I won't be able to do justice to the club or myself if this neck keeps bothering me."

"I feel a little better. Fact of the matter is, I've felt just a wee bit better during the past week or so. Maybe it's improving."

Bob Elliott Wants Players With Strong Aversion to Losing

West Palm Beach, Fla. — "The Kansas City Athletics new manager says there will be no place on the club for players who don't have a strong aversion to losing."

"When we win a ball game I want our players to live it up and have all the fun they can in the clubhouse," Bob Elliott said Wednesday.

"But after we lose a game I don't want to hear any singing, shouting or even any loud bugglegum popping. I want my players to come in, get their showers and be on their way."

Bob Prusynski Rolls 569 Sherwood Series

Bob Prusynski clouded a 569 triple for the honor score in the latest edition of Sherwood Businessmen's league bowling. Haen Insurance (39-24) leads the league by two games.

Les Schlender rattled a 555.

Lane Suggests Devine Must Have Used Gun To Get Ronnie Kline

St. Petersburg, Fla. — "Frank Lane, who led St. Louis to fourth and second-place finishes in two years as general manager, today expressed belief the Cardinals have 'a pretty fair chance' to climb from seventh to fourth place because of deals completed by successor Bing Devine."

The colorful Cleveland G. M., visiting his home here, said Devine "must have held a gun to Joe Brown's head" to get right-handed pitcher Ronnie Kline from Pittsburgh for outfielder Gino Cimoli and rookie Tom Cheney.

NCAA Adds 2 More Clubs To Meet Field

Western Kentucky, Air Force Join Tourney Parade

Colorful Ed Diddle's Western Kentucky Hilltoppers and Maj. Bob Spear and his young, eager Air Force Falcons are teams No. 14 and 15 for the fast-filling 25-team NCAA basketball tournament today. By nightfall, St. Joseph of Philadelphia probably will have joined the list.

The Air Force, making its first NCAA appearance, accepted an at-large invitation Wednesday while the Falcons were rolling up their twelfth victory in their last 16 games, 65-58, over Regis. Western Kentucky, in the tournament for the first time since 1940, wrapped up the Ohio Valley conference championship and an automatic berth in the NCAA showdown with an 83-69 romp over East Tennessee State.

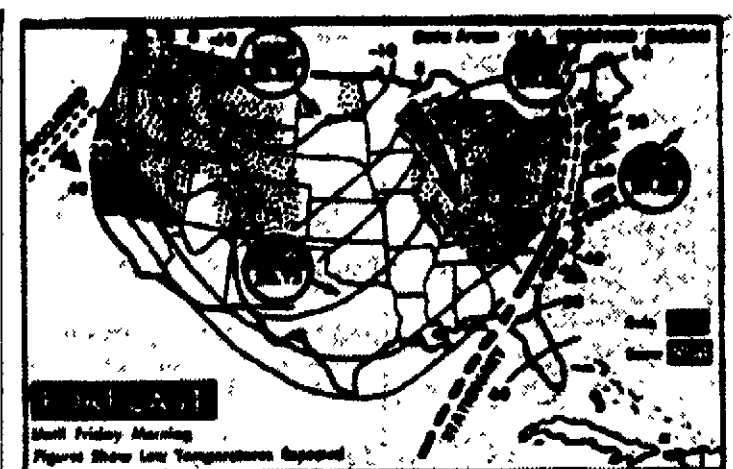

At the same time, St. Joseph set up its probable selection as the Middle Atlantic conference representative to the tourney by clinching the M-A university title in a 78-66 victory over Lafayette.

In other games, Dayton (19-6) rallied in the second half for a 75-69 victory over Detroit, also 19-6.

NCAA-bound Ohio university was upset by Marietta, Ohio, 74-66.

Answer to 'You Call It'

(B) — Strickland bunts and successfully squeezes home Franconia as the Indians take a 4-3 lead. The Yankees tie it in their half. But Cleveland picks up another run in the 14th to win 5-4 (June 21).

Snow flurries tonight are forecast from the northeast to the Great Lakes area and south to the Ohio valley and central and southern Appalachians as well as in the Rockies and the far northwest. Rain is expected in northern California with mixed rain and snow in the Great Basin.

March Storms Slagger Parts Of Northeast

High Winds, Snow Close Schools, Block Highways

March storms hurled high winds and staggering loads of snow on the northeastern quarter of the nation today.

The Fox Cities escaped the brunt of the storm as it passed through southern Wisconsin and Illinois. Two inches of new snow fell here. The weatherman calls for partly cloudy skies, no more snow but colder weather.

The wind-whipped snow closed schools and roads in the east and midwest. Ice slowed travel in the south. A tornado struck in Florida.

More Shoveling

Snow - weary Wisconsin got out the well-used shovels and plows again today as another winter storm swept into the state.

The southeastern sector took the initial brunt of the wind-whipped snow and received the heaviest blanket by early morning.

A fall of five inches was reported in Pewaukee just an hour after daybreak. The Milwaukee area measured 2-4 inches. And it still was snowing.

Many Deaths

All in all, it was the most widespread outbreak of wild weather of a rough winter.

Deaths mounted to 24. Included were 6 in Texas, 6 in Colorado, 3 in Kansas, 2 in Tennessee, 1 each in Mississippi, Iowa, North Carolina, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri.

High Winds

Snow fell in places as far apart as Portland, Ore., and New York City. It ranged to 9 inches in southern Illinois, 10 in Missouri, 12 in the North Carolina mountains and 20 in the mountainous areas of West Virginia.

Winds with gusts up to 46 m.p.h. drifted 5 inches of snow in Washington, D. C. Automobiles stalled and schools canceled. Most flights were canceled at National Airport.

The worst snowstorm of the season shut some highways and most schools in Indiana. Drifts up to six feet clogged highways in the west - central section of the state.

Cut Speed

Maryland was burdened by up to a foot of snow. Highways between Baltimore and Washington were virtually impassable because of stalled cars and trucks. State police placed all troopers on continuous duty. City and state offices were closed in Baltimore.

Some highways were blocked in West Virginia, where the snow scaled up to more than 20 inches in the mountains.

All public and parochial schools were closed in Philadelphia.

The speed limit on the New Jersey Turnpike and Garden State Parkway was reduced from 60 to 30 m.p.h.

Lakers Can Clinch Playoff Berth by Winning Tonight

By the Associated Press

Minneapolis can complete the National Basketball association playoff picture tonight by defeating Cincinnati in the first game of a double-header at Philadelphia.

The Lakers clinched a tie for third place in the Western division Wednesday night by downing the New York Knicks, 123-113, as Elgin Baylor tossed in 48 points. Cincinnati must win all of its remaining three games while the Lakers drop their five to tie for the last playoff spot.

Boston's Celtics turned on all of their finesse to whip the Philadelphia Warriors, 133-119, in the nightcap to the Lakers-Knicks game. Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain was the high scorer with 39 points.

The Detroit Pistons turned in a 116-101 victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

City of Appletton OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

February 8, 1960

The first monthly meeting of the Board of Education, held on February 8, 1960, at 7:15 p.m., February 8, 1960, in the Office of the Superintendent of Schools. All Board members were present.

Two representatives of the Twin Villages Board of Education appeared before the board for the purpose of discussing building plans for the Twin Villages school. The board will not conflict with any future plans for this school, should it be annexed to Appletton at some future date.

The board viewed plans for the Twin Villages School and the suggestion was made that they take up to take back to their board.

Dr. McLeod moved and Mr. McLeod seconded approval of the minutes of January 25 and February 2, 1960. Carried, all voting aye.

Mr. Schneider read the following communications:

1. Letter from Elden J. Broehm, City Clerk, report of the Public Safety Committee. "The School Board be notified that the Fire escapes should be provided from the second floor at the Columbus School immediately after the school budget has insufficient money to provide these, money may be transferred from the current fund of the city budget."

From the Report of the Committee of the School Board, the plans and specifications for the construction of an Edison Elementary School, estimated cost $1,100,000.00, and the Board of Education be authorized to advertise for bids.

2. Letter from Assembly of God asking for reduction of fee for the use of Morgan School for religious purposes.

3. Letter from administrators of the Appletton Public Schools expressing their appreciation of salary considerations.

4. Letter from American Association of Women, enclosing summary of panel discussion "Which Years in Junior High?"

Communication No. 2 — Board recommended that the Director of Business Affairs advise this group that the board members would be pleased to discuss the matter.

Communication No. 4 — Request made that this matter be referred to the board members with the next agenda.

Mr. Schneider moved and Mr. Schneider seconded that the General Bill List of February 8, 1960, amounting to $28,549.04, be approved and certified to the City Clerk for payment. Carried on a roll call vote.

Mr. McLeod moved and Mr. McLeod seconded that the monthly reports of Physical Therapy be accepted and placed on file. Carried, all voting aye.

Mr. McLeod moved and Mr. McLeod seconded that the Superintendent's report be accepted and placed on file. Carried, all voting aye.

1. New contracts for the 1960-61 school year:

2. The members of the Columbus School P.T.A. interested in the maximum safety of their children, requested the addition of fire escapes to the Columbus School.

The organization requests that every building be made by the Board of Education to see that this is accomplished as soon as possible. Thank you.

Berry Kamperschoer, Secretary

I suggest that the Edison School be moved to the Columbus School as soon as possible. Further discussion of this letter should take place.

2. Dr. Stewart North met with the various committees in which help was requested from the Wisconsin Department of Education.

3. Dr. North told us to start setting up our activities, and that every building be made by the Board of Education to see that this is accomplished as soon as possible. Thank you.

4. The members of the Columbus School P.T.A. interested in the maximum safety of their children, requested the addition of fire escapes to the Columbus School.

The organization requests that every building be made by the Board of Education to see that this is accomplished as soon as possible. Thank you.

Berry Kamperschoer, Secretary

weeks. The recommended pay is the same as last summer, that being $100 per week.

5. The Senior High School is recommending the following changes in textbooks for the various subject areas for next year.

Biology — for slow learners the textbook recommended is "Living Things" by Fitzpatrick & Linn, Henry Holt & Company. This recommendation is made because there are only two textbooks at a reading level comparable to that of the other who will be in this section.

Advanced French — "New Second-Year French" by Orlin and Linn, Henry Holt & Company is recommended. This textbook is in addition to the first year French textbook recommended by the same authors.

Because more advanced French will be taught, I recommend its adoption. Economics — Because we have not had a new economics textbook for a number of years, Mr. Sager, Chairman of the Social Studies Department, and his Committee, are recommending "Our American Economy" by Lindholm and Driscoll; Harcourt, Brace and Company.

Mr. Sager states the material entails a more classical, theoretical approach to economics than is evident in the present course with the present textbook. Otherwise, the book is well written and the charts, chapter helps, etc., are excellent.

Mr. Schneider moved and Mr. Schneider seconded approval of the Superintendent's Report, exclusive of item No. 2 (to be considered under "new business") and item No. 4 carry board recommendation that separate classes be conducted in algebra and geometry. Carried on a roll call vote.

Mr. Knuth presented the report of Director of Business Affairs.

1. Financial statement of the James Madison Junior High School for the year 1959-1960 will note that there is a surplus of $2.45 which indicates that we are operating on a budget of 40¢ per lunch. It is therefore recommended that the lunch program be continued on a permanent basis.

Mr. Fox anticipated that the year would be up from the 1959-60 enrollment.

2. Financial statement of the James Madison Building Fund as of Jan. 31, 1960.

3. Financial statement of the James Madison Building Fund as of Jan. 31, 1960. It was anticipated that this account will be closed sometime this coming summer.

4. School Board report of the Richmond School Addition Building Fund as of January 31, 1960. It was anticipated that this account will be closed during the summer of 1960.

Architect charges on alternate plans for James Madison swimming pool discussed by the board. The question was raised as to whether the architect should be hired on a permanent basis. Mr. Fox anticipated that the year would be up from the 1959-60 enrollment.

Mr. McLeod moved and Mr. McLeod seconded approval of the Superintendent's Report, exclusive of item No. 2 (to be considered under "new business") and item No. 4 carry board recommendation that separate classes be conducted in algebra and geometry. Carried on a roll call vote.
